CARRANZA'S NOTE SEEMS TO SATISFY

RUMANIA NOW EXPECTED TO JOIN WITH ALLIES

FRENCH ADVANCING BUT BRITISH MEET STIFF RESISTANCE

LONDON REPORTS STEADY BUT SLOW PROGRESS—GERMAN LOSSES TO DATE ESTIMATED AT 60,000—COUNTER OFFENSIVE NEAR ARRAS EXPECTED.

London, July 5.—The French continue to make more progress than the British on the western front owing partly to the more difficult ground facing the British and also to the fact that stronger forces are opposing them because of the belief among the Germans that the main attack in the present operations will be on the British front.

But despite their slower progress, the British are successfully beating back heavy German counter attacks which have been delivered both day and night in the regions of La Boiselle and Thiepval, and generally between the Ancre and the Somme, where they are making steady progress.

It is estimated that the German losses in the battle of the Somme thus far are approximately 60,000. The capture of guns has been comparatively small because the Germans in anticipation of the offensive withdrew their big artillery to longer ranges before the battle began.

According to aerial observations on the French front in the direction of Peronne there are now only three more trench systems between the French and the open country, and if a break can be made in the German lines here it would be extremely serious for the Germans, who are doubtless hurrying up reinforcements to the battlefield from as far as Verdun and Lens, and it is thought that the continued heavy attacks on the Meuse may be intended to conceal important transfers of troops behind the German lines.

A report from Holland indicates that the Germans have prepared a counter offensive between the Belgian frontier and Arras, where it is rumored a formidable concentration of artillery is being made.

The operations on the Russian front show not the slightest diminuition of intensity. The Germans are offering stubborn resistance to the Russian offensive in the Baranovichi region but on the whole the Russians appear to have the advantage here and also in the Lutsk region.

RUSSIANS HAVE CUT RAILROAD NEEDED TO DEFEND LEMBERG

COMPARATIVE QUIET AROUND VERDUN, BUT GERMANS OPEN NEW ATTACK ON THE FRENCH LINES NEAR LORRAINE FRONTIER.

The entire second position of the Germans south of the Somme, over an extent of practically six miles, has fallen into the hands of the French who have also captured the village of Hem, near the northern extremity of their line and have completed their conquest of Estrees.

The British line apparently has failed to advance, "except slightly in certain sectors," as the British war office puts it. Some of the ground gained by the British has been lost, however, and the further statement of the British that the fighting all along the battle front was mostly in the nature of local struggles for the possession of strong points would seem to indicate that each side is devoting particular attention to the organization of its positions and strengthening of its hand for further attack or defense.

The number of German prisoners reported by the British and French has reached about 16,000, while the German casualties have been unofficially estimated at 60,000. On their part the Germans report the taking of a considerable number of British soldiers.

Comparative quiet for the time being has settled over Verdun although the bombardments of necessity continue. But while the respite is on at Verdun the Germans have opened a new attack on the French lines near the Lorraine frontier some miles to the east of Luneville. They delivered strong assaults against the French trenches in this sector and entered them at three points only to be driven out shortly afterward.

A success of the first importance is reported by the Russians who claim to have cut the railroad running from Lemberg, capital of Galicia, to Delatyn. This is the main line of communication for the Austro-Germans defending Lemberg and allied military critics have insisted that the cutting of this railroad would compel the central powers to fall back on a wide front and place Lemberg in imminent peril.

The Russian war office in a late communication also claims the rout of the enemy forces on the right bank of the Dniester.

The views expressed in Berlin respecting the Anglo-French offensive reflect confidence on the part of the Germans that the German line will hold and the German control of the territory now occupied in France and Belgium will remain steadfast. The successes so far attained by the French and British are looked upon as of minor importance.

Rumania has again come into the light and talk has been revived of the possible entrance into the European war of that country. Dispatches tell of the recent decision of the two strong opposing factions in Rumania to act together hereafter. Their attitude is said to be in favor of intervention on the side of the entente allies.

Constantinople officially reports that the Russians have been driven out of Kermanshah in western Persia while the Russians claim to have broken the Turkish line east of Baiburt.

The number of Russian prisoners captured south of the Pripet river in the month of June, according to the statement from Vienna by way of Berlin reached more than 23,000 men.

Outskirts of Peronne Now In Possession of French

Paris, July 5.—The full force of the French offensive again is being exerted both north and south of the Somme, but principally southward. In this direction the French are now in the outskirts of Peronne, the great railway center which is their first objective in their effort to cut the German communications.

Sormont farm, taken by the French is only two miles from Peronne and adjoins its suburban houses. The importance which the Germans attach to this point it shown in their fierce counter attack last night when they rushed the French lines back to the village of Belloy-En-Santerre, which they momentarily held. This village lies between Assevillers and Estrees, both held by the French so that the German rush temporarily made a dent in the French advance. This dent was quickly straightened out when fierce hand-to-hand fighting placed the town again in French hands.

The number of German prisoners taken is now close to 10,000 while the extent of the munitions captured is shown in the fact that sixty guns were taken by a single army corps. Meantime the movement north of the Somme is necessarily retarded in order that the French left wing may act simultaneously with the British right wing.

The British have been facing an extremely heavy resistance and large German reinforcements were hurried forward all day yesterday by the Cologne-Cambrai railway which runs to the very center of the German front attacked by the British. The stubborn resistance all along this front has prevented the British from keeping pace with the French advance to the south.

The tenacity with which the Germans are holding to their positions in the face of the British attack, particularly around LaBoiselle while the French menace of Peronne is comparatively neglected leads to the belief of the military authorities that the Germans are chiefly concerned in breaking the British offensive even at the sacrifice of some ground to the south.

The French have now in some places pushed through the third and last line of the German defenses as they existed before the attack began. The Germans are hastily constructing a new line, but are manifestly unable to make it as strong as the three lines perfected after twenty months of labor.

The tremendous allied offensive in France indicates that the British have at last begun the huge drive which was promised a year ago last May. Kitchener is dead, but the British have other leaders to take his place. One of the most able of them all is General Sir Henry H. Wilson, who is one of a small group of leaders directing the great attack.

GULF STORM MISSES TEXAS THIS TIME

PENSACOLA AND MOBILE IN HURRICANE'S PATH—EXTENT OF DAMAGE UNKNOWN.

Two Schooners Blown Ashore Near Biloxi—Wind Velocity Very High.

New Orleans, July 5.—A severe wind and rain storm, which according to weather bureau officials was part of the tropical hurricane reported the last few days in the Gulf of Mexico, passed inland today, sweeping along the southeastern coast of Louisiana, the lower Mississippi and Alabama coasts and the northwestern part of Florida. The center of the storm apparently passed over Pensacola, Mobile and the cities along Mississipi sound, but early tonight nothing had been learned as to the extent of the damage at either Mobile or Pensacola, as all efforts to communicate with those cities by land wires and radio had been unsuccessful. The storm seemed to be moving generally northwest.

No communication was had between Pensacola and the outside world since about 9:30 o'clock this morning when a report was received here that the wind was blowing 72 miles an hour and apparently increasing. Mobile was cut off from wire communication shortly before 11 a. m. wen reports stated the wind's velocity was more than 70 miles an hour. Unofficial reports gave the wind's velocity at Mobile at between 75 and 80 miles an hour.

High tides also were reported throughout the stor marea. Late today there was a a 50-mile wind at Biloxi, Miss., with guests at time as high as 80 miles an hour. Two schooners were reported blown ashore on Deer Island near Biloxi. Other Mississippi coast cities reported high winds and tides but no serious damage.

In New Orleans the baximum velocity of the wind during the day was 34 miles, decreasing to about 20 tonight. The barometer recorded 29.43 and was about stationary.

The center of the main hurricane early tonight, according to estimates by weather bureau officials, was thought to be still in the gulf about 150 or 200 miles of fthe southeast Louisiana coast and moving at probably 80 miles an hour. Weather bureau officials, however, said it was impossible to give the location or velocity accurately because only meager reports had been received from vessels at sea and attempts to communicate by wireless with Burwood, the southernmost point in Louisiana on the gulf coast, had proved futile. Some anxiety was felt here for residents and tourists at Grand Isle on the southeastern Louisiana coast and also residents of Barataria and surrounding low countries along the gulf. Four mtor boats were dispatched to Grand Isle and Barataria an dtonight Capt. Horace Harvey left here with his large power boat loaded with food and clothing for those sections.

The Louisville and Nashville annulled all trains out of New Orleans tonight owing to washouts at Lake Catherine and Bay St. Louis, Miss. Railroad officials denied that the Louisville and Nashville bridge at Bay St. Louis had been washed out of line and said they expected to run trains to Mobile and through trains by tomorrow morning.

BIG REVENUE BILL FAVORABLY REPORTED

Income, Estate and Munition Manufacturers' Taxes Largest Items in the List.

Washington, July 5.—The administration revenue bill designed to produce about $200,000,000 of additional avenue from increased surtax on incomes and from taxes on inheritances and war munitions profits was favorably reported today by the house ways and means committee and probably will be passed by the house Monday.

Two republican members of the committee—Longworth of Ohio, and Gardner of Massachusetts—voted with the democrats for a favorable report. Two other republican committeemen—Green of Iowa, and Sloan of Nebraska—while they voted against reporting the bill gave notice that they expected to support it on the final roll call.

The committee report says the necessity for revenue legislation "grows out of the necessary increase in appropriations for the army and navy and fortification of our country.' ' The fiscal situation is summarized in this way:

"Estimated excess of disbursements over receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1917, $266,922,000; additional receipts under the proposed bill, income tax $107,000,000; estate tax $17,000,000 (and it is estimated that the annual receipts obtained from the estate tax will amount to $54,000,000 when the law is in full operation); munition manufacturers' tax $71,000,000; miscellaneous taxes $2,000,000. Total additional receipts $197,0090,000. Balance to be taken from general fund, $69,922,000."

Fortunately the balance in the general fund July 30, 1916, was much larger than at the end of any fiscal year since 1908. After deducting $59,000,000 for disbursing officers' balance there remained in this fund over $177,000,000. After deducting $69,922,000 from this fund as above there will still remain June 30, 1917 in the general fund over $100,000,000 exclusive of the disbursing officers' balances. It is estimated that the total appropriation for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1917, will not exceed $1,579,000,000. This included $125,000,000 to meet the extraordinary expenses or disbursements occasioned by the Mexican situation. This and any other appropriations that may be necessary to meet the abnormal and extraordinary expenses which may be incurred on such account should be financed by bond issues as is always done by this and all other nations under similar circumstances.

Allowing for postal reveneus the estimated bonds and unexpended appropriations leaves $1,015,122,000 as the amount for which it is necessary to provide revenue. The estimated revenue under present laws is $748,200,000. Estimated excess of disbursements over receipts $266,922,000."

Receipts from the income tax under the bill are estimated at $227,000,000 annually. The proposed estate or inheritance tax is to be levied upon transfer of net estates after deducting all valid claims and an additional exemption of $50,000.

FRIENDLY TONE ASSUMED BY MEXICAN FIRST CHIEF IN REPLY TO SEC. LANSING

Crisis Believed Over by Washington Officials, in Spite of Fact That Carranza Evaded Answering Question as to Order Given Generals to Attack Americans Under Certain Circumstances.

DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS EXPECTED TO FOLLOW

Contention That U. S. Troops Should Be Withdrawn Is Not Abandoned, and Plan for Joint Action in Putting Down Bandits Proposed—Mobilization of National Guard Continues, However, at Full Speed—If No New Outbreaks Occur, Militia May Be Sent Back Home.

Washington, July 5.—Early resumption of friendly diplomatic conversations with the defacto government of Mexico to the end that peace and order may be restored in northern Mexico and along the border is expected here to be the next step of the United States in its relations with its southern neighbor.

The crisis precipitated by Villa's raid on Columbus, N. M., and culminating in the fight at Carrizal, Mexico, between American and Mexican troops, appeared tonight to have been dissipated by an amicable note from General Carranza presented during the day by his ambassador designate here, Eliseo Arredondo. The note proposes that the differences between the governments be settled by mediation or by direct negotiations. It is remarkable for its brevity, its restrained and friendly tone and for the absolute lack of any of the strong, even insolent language which characterized the last two communications from the de facto government. It treats as a closed incident the exchange of unfriendly communications which brought war almost within sight.

No formal comment on the note was obtainable from state department officials. A copy was forwarded to the White House immediately on its receipt and President Wilson will determine on the course to be pursued. The fact that Secretary Lansing completed preparations today for a month's vacation to begin Friday is regarded as siginifcant, however, of a feeling on his part that the crisis is over.

TO DEAL WITH CARRANZA DIRECT.

As a matter of general principle the Washington government always has favored mediation of any dispute suitable for such procedure. There is every indication, however, that in the present instance it will be deemed desirable to conduct forthcoming negotiations directly with the Carranza government.

Members of the Latin-American diplomatic corps here are expected to make inquiry soon as to the attitude of the Washington government in view of the statement of the Mexican foreign officers that it awaits only a decision here as to whether mediation or direct negotiations would be preferable. Indications tonight were that the inquiries would be met with assurances that the two governments had reached a stage where they would not find it necessary to call on the friendly services of their neighbor states.

It is not known whether a formal reply to General Carranza's note is contemplated. Diplomatic usage does not call for one and many officials feel that more can be accomplished through informal discussion between Mr. Arredondo and Counsellor Polk who will act as secretary in Mr. Lansing's absence than could be hoped for in any other way. It is understood Mr. Arredondo plans to call at the department tomorrow to say good-bye to Secretary Lansing on his departure for his vacation. Probably the preliminary steps necessary for the inauguration of the informal discussion will be taken then. State department officials appeared entirely satisfied with the definition of the matters to be settled outlined in the new Mexican note. It is presented in this language as translated in the embassy:

STILL HARPING ON WITHDRAWAL.

"The American government believes, reasonably, that the insecurity of its frontier is a source of difficulty and the Mexican government on its part believes that the stay of American troops on Mexican territory, aside from being a trespass on the sovereignty of Mexico is the immediate cause of the conflicts. Therefore the withdrawal of

Text of Carranza's Reply

Washington, July 5.—The text of the note, as transmitted by Eliseo Arrendondo, the Mexican ambassador-designate, follows:

"Washington, D. C., July 4, 1916.

"Mr. Secretary:

"I have the honor to transmit in continuation the text of a note I have just received from my government with instructions to your excellency:

"'Mr. Secretary:

"'Referring to the notes of June 20 and 25 last, I have the honor to say to your excellency that the immediate release of the Carrizal prisoners was a further proof of the sincerity of the desire of this government to reach a pacific and satisfactory arrangement of present difficulties. This government is anxious to solve the present conflict and it would be unjust if its attitude were misinterpreted.

"'It was also the Mexican government that earnestly suggested a plan for cantonments along the boundary line during the conferences of Cuidad Juarez and El Paso. This government is disposed now, as it has always been, to seek an immediate solution of the two points which constitute the true cause of the conflict between the two countries, to-wit: The American government thinks reasonably that the insecurity of its frontier is a source of difficulty and the Mexican government on its part believes that the stay of American troops on Mexican territory, aside from being a trespass on the sovereignty of Mexico, is the immediate cause of the conflicts. Therefore, the withdrawal of American troops, on one hand, and the protection of the frontier on the other, are the two essential problems, the solution of which must be the directing object of the efforts of both countries.

"'The Mexican government is willing to consider in a quick and practical way and prompted by a spirit of concord, the remedies which should be applied to the present situation.

"'Several Latin-American countries have offered their friendly mediation to the Mexican government and the latter has accepted it in principle. Therefore, the Mexican government only awaits information that the government of the United States would be disposed to accept this mediation for the purpose mentioned above, or whether it is still of the belief that the same results may be attained by means of direct negotiations between both governments.

"'In the meantime this government proposes to employ all efforts that may be at its disposal to avoid the recurrence of new incidents which may complicate and aggravate the situation. At the same time it hopes that the American government on its part may make use of all efforts to prevent also new acts of its military and civil authorities of the frontier that might cause new complications.

"'I avail myself of this opportunity to reiterate to your excellency the assurance of my most distinguished consideration.

"'C. AGUILAR.'

(Signed)

"Having thus complied with higher instruction of my government, it offers me pleasure to reiterate to your excellency the assurance of my highest consideration.

"E. ARREDONDO."

VOLUNTARY FORECAST.

By Isidor Block, D. O. S., F. R., Met. S., Optician and Meterologist.

Today unsettled, with strong probability of local rains. With a low pressure over the east gulf and with strong gales and a low moving in from the west, we may expect fairly general rains over the gulf region and the whole south. These lows are very pronounced over the northern half of the United States. We also may expect fair breezes.

Local Readings.

Temperature, maximum 89 at 3 p. m., minimum 74 at 6 a. m.; barometer 29.85; humidity .65; wind, 100 miles, with 20 miles an hour the fastest at 7:15 p. m. Rainfall .17 inch.

BIG REVENUE BILL FAVORABLY REPORTED

Washington, July 5.—The administration revenue bill designed to produce about $200,000,000 of additional avenue from increased surtax on incomes and from taxes on inheritances and war munitions profits was favorably reported today by the house ways and means committee and probably will be passed by the house Monday.

Two republican members of the committee—Longworth of Ohio, and Gardner of Massachusetts—voted with the democrats for a favorable report. Two other republican committeemen—Green of Iowa, and Sloan of Nebraska—while they voted against reporting the bill gave notice that they expected to support it on the final roll call.

The committee report says the necessity for revenue legislation "grows out of the necessary increase in appropriations for the army and navy and fortification of our country.'' The fiscal situation is summarized in this way:

"Estimated excess of disbursements over receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1917, $266,922,000; additional receipts under the proposed bill, income tax $107,000,000; estate tax $17,000,000 (and it is estimated that the annual receipts obtained from the estate tax will amount to $54,000,000 when the law is in full operation); munition manufacturers' tax $71,000,000; miscellaneous taxes $2,000,000. Total additional receipts $197,0090,000. Balance to be taken from general fund, $69,922,000."

Fortunately the balance in the general fund July 30, 1916, was much larger than at the end of any fiscal year since 1908. After deducting $59,000,000 for disbursing officers' balance there remained in this fund over $177,000,000. After deducting $69,922,000 from this fund as above there will still remain June 30, 1917 in the general fund over $100,000,000 exclusive of the disbursing officers' balances. It is estimated that the total appropriation for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1917, will not exceed $1,579,000,000. This included $125,000,000 to meet the extraordinary expenses or disbursements occasioned by the Mexican situation. This and any other appropriations that may be necessary to meet the abnormal and extraordinary expenses which may be incurred on such account should be financed by bond issues as is always done by this and all other nations under similar circumstances.

Allowing for postal reveneus the estimated bonds and unexpended appropriations leaves $1,015,122,000 as the amount for which it is necessary to provide revenue. The estimated revenue under present laws is $748,200,000. Estimated excess of disbursements over receipts $266,922,000."

Receipts from the income tax under the bill are estimated at $227,000,000 annually. The proposed estate or inheritance tax is to be levied upon transfer of net estates after deducting all valid claims and an additional exemption of $50,000.

Estes Trial Postponed.

Nashville, Tenn., July 5.—In the absence of a quorum only an informal session was held today of the state senate which met as a court of impeachment to hear the trial of Z. Newton Estes, attorney general of Shelby county, who recently was suspended from office pending the hearing before the senate of charges of official misconduct. Mr. Estes, in his answer presented today, made an absolute denial of the charges.

Crisis Believed Over by Washington Officials, in Spite of Fact That Carranza Evaded Answering Question as to Order Given Generals to Attack Americans Under Certain Circumstances.

DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS EXPECTED TO FOLLOW

Contention That U. S. Troops Should Be Withdrawn Is Not Abandoned, and Plan for Joint Action in Putting Down Bandits Proposed—Mobilization of National Guard Continues, However, at Full Speed—If No New Outbreaks Occur, Militia May Be Sent Back Home.

Washington, July 5.—Early resumption of friendly diplomatic conversations with the defacto government of Mexico to the end that peace and order may be restored in northern Mexico and along the border is expected here to be the next step of the United States in its relations with its southern neighbor.

The crisis precipitated by Villa's raid on Columbus, N. M., and culminating in the fight at Carrizal, Mexico, between American and Mexican troops, appeared tonight to have been dissipated by an amicable note from General Carranza presented during the day by his ambassador designate here, Eliseo Arredondo. The note proposes that the differences between the governments be settled by mediation or by direct negotiations. It is remarkable for its brevity, its restrained and friendly tone and for the absolute lack of any of the strong, even insolent language which characterized the last two communications from the de facto government. It treats as a closed incident the exchange of unfriendly communications which brought war almost within sight.

No formal comment on the note was obtainable from state department officials. A copy was forwarded to the White House immediately on its receipt and President Wilson will determine on the course to be pursued. The fact that Secretary Lansing completed preparations today for a month's vacation to begin Friday is regarded as siginifcant, however, of a feeling on his part that the crisis is over.

TO DEAL WITH CARRANZA DIRECT.

As a matter of general principle the Washington government always has favored mediation of any dispute suitable for such procedure. There is every indication, however, that in the present instance it will be deemed desirable to conduct forthcoming negotiations directly with the Carranza government.

Members of the Latin-American diplomatic corps here are expected to make inquiry soon as to the attitude of the Washington government in view of the statement of the Mexican foreign officers that it awaits only a decision here as to whether mediation or direct negotiations would be preferable. Indications tonight were that the inquiries would be met with assurances that the two governments had reached a stage where they would not find it necessary to call on the friendly services of their neighbor states.

It is not known whether a formal reply to General Carranza's note is contemplated. Diplomatic usage does not call for one and many officials feel that more can be accomplished through informal discussion between Mr. Arredondo and Counsellor Polk who will act as secretary in Mr. Lansing's absence than could be hoped for in any other way. It is understood Mr. Arredondo plans to call at the department tomorrow to say good-bye to Secretary Lansing on his departure for his vacation. Probably the preliminary steps necessary for the inauguration of the informal discussion will be taken then. State department officials appeared entirely satisfied with the definition of the matters to be settled outlined in the new Mexican note. It is presented in this language as translated in the embassy:

STILL HARPING ON WITHDRAWAL.

Therefore the withdrawal of

Text of Carranza's Reply

Washington, July 5.—The text of the note, as transmitted by Eliseo Arrendondo, the Mexican ambassador-designate, follows:

"Washington, D. C., July 4, 1916.

"Mr. Secretary:

"I have the honor to transmit in continuation the text of a note I have just received from my government with instructions to your excellency:

"'Mr. Secretary:

"'Referring to the notes of June 20 and 25 last, I have the honor to say to your excellency that the immediate release of the Carrizal prisoners was a further proof of the sincerity of the desire of this government to reach a pacific and satisfactory arrangement of present difficulties. This government is anxious to solve the present conflict and it would be unjust if its attitude were misinterpreted.

"'It was also the Mexican government that earnestly suggested a plan for cantonments along the boundary line during the conferences of Cuidad Juarez and El Paso. This government is disposed now, as it has always been, to seek an immediate solution of the two points which constitute the true cause of the conflict between the two countries, to-wit: The American government thinks reasonably that the insecurity of its frontier is a source of difficulty and the Mexican government on its part believes that the stay of American troops on Mexican territory, aside from being a trespass on the sovereignty of Mexico, is the immediate cause of the conflicts. Therefore, the withdrawal of American troops, on one hand, and the protection of the frontier on the other, are the two essential problems, the solution of which must be the directing object of the efforts of both countries.

"'The Mexican government is willing to consider in a quick and practical way and prompted by a spirit of concord, the remedies which should be applied to the present situation.

"'Several Latin-American countries have offered their friendly mediation to the Mexican government and the latter has accepted it in principle. Therefore, the Mexican government only awaits information that the government of the United States would be disposed to accept this mediation for the purpose mentioned above, or whether it is still of the belief that the same results may be attained by means of direct negotiations between both governments.

"'In the meantime this government proposes to employ all efforts that may be at its disposal to avoid the recurrence of new incidents which may complicate and aggravate the situation. At the same time it hopes that the American government on its part may make use of all efforts to prevent also new acts of its military and civil authorities of the frontier that might cause new complications.

"'I avail myself of this opportunity to reiterate to your excellency the assurance of my most distinguished consideration.

"'C. AGUILAR.'

(Signed)

"Having thus complied with higher instruction of my government, it offers me pleasure to reiterate to your excellency the assurance of my highest consideration.

MRS. PARKER BROKE RECORD IN TEXAS

It does not take much liquid Vitalitas to get big results, as a rule, but here is one exception and the record of it is cheerfully given. The report is made by Mrs. N. J. Parker of Boerne, Texas, and is best given in her own words:

"I am anxious to tell what Vitalitas did. Three years ago I had a nervous breakdown and life was not worth living. Having very little faith in doctors, I began taking Vitalitas and continued it until I had used twelve bottles. I gained 40 pounds. I am 57 years of age, and now hardly know what it is to feel tired or sick and am confident Vitalitas made me what I am today."

One or two bottles of Vitalitas are usually sufficient to produce wonderful results, but where cases are chronic or of long standing, a greater amount is required. This is the only case on record, so far as reports show, where as many as twelve bottles have been required to produce cure, even in the most chronic cases. Vitalitas has restored many people to health who believed themselves beyond earthly help. Every drop of it is health-giving. There is nothing in the world like it. It relieves and heals such disorders as indigestion, rheumatism, nervous debility, liver and kidney disorders. For sale by Powers-Kelly Drug store, and all other druggists.

St. Louis Electric Suit Is Settled

St. Louis, July 5.—United States District Judge Trieber, sitting in St. Louis in absence of Judge Dyer, announced today that he had been informed of an agreement in the suit of stockholders of the Missouri Edison company against the Union Electric Light and Power company which has been in dispute for thirteen years.

The Missouri Edison company was absorbed by the Union Electric interests in 1903 and the stockholders were offered $50 a share for their holdings. They brought suit and won judgment for $604,000, which is approximately $101.20 per shaare. Final settlement was held up when lawyers representing the victorious shareholders asked a fee of $96,000.

This fee was agreed upon as reasonable today and Judge Trieber said he would terminate the case tomorrow. Four lawyers, D. T. Bomar of Fort Worth, William R. Thompson, Elenious Smith and Douglas W. Roberts of St. Louis represented the stockholders.

BERLIN NEWSPAPERS STILL OPTIMISTIC

TAGEBLATT CALLS THE ANGLO-FRENCH SUCCESSES TO DATE "VERY SCANTY."

Morgen Post Claims Allies Are Not Gaining and Chronicles Russian Defeats.

Berlin, July 5.—(Via London)—In view of the fact that the initial attack of every offensive is hardest to withstand owing to the unavoidable effect of surprise with superior masses of troops and accumulated ammunition, the military critics here are unanimous in considering that the great offensive in the west has made a showing which cannot encourage Germany's opponents.

Major Morant, in the Tageblatt, calls the Anglo-French successes "very scanty."

The Morgen Post critic says that the latest reports show that the British and French are gaining no ground but that the central powers have made gains in Volhynia and south of the Dniester.

Other comments follow the same lines, absolute confidence being expressed that the entente allies are unable to menace the German lines anywhere.

American Rabbis Now in Conference

Wildwood, N. J., July 5.—Reporting today to the central conference of American Rabbis in session here, the committee on model constitution, Rabbi Louis Witt, Little Rock, chairman, made a number of important suggestions. Among them were suggestions that membership also should provide for the inclusion of the young people over the age of confirmation and under twenty-one, that unmarried women and widows should be members on the same condition as men and should enjoy the same rights; that seats in the synagogue should be unassigned but it should be the duty of the board of trustees to make reservation sufficient to accommodate the entire membership, and that in fixing the assessments there should be taken into consideration the needs of the congregational budget and the ability to pay possessed by each member, without the stipulation of the minimum amount as condition of membership.

Oklahoma Regiment to Move Next Week

Oklahoma City, Okla., July 5.—The First regiment of the Oklahoma National Guard, now encamped at Fort Sill, Okla., tonight was ordered by the war department to proceed to the Mexican border Wednesday, July 12. One week was allowed by the government for further recruiting, as the organization is not yet at war strength. If other units of the state militia are at war strength by next Wednesday it is thought theq, too, will be ordered to the Rio Grande.

Upon receipt of the order for the infantry to move Governor Williams issued a proclamation calling upon all towns which have contributed to the First infantry to organize locally to aid in facilitate recruiting during the week.

BOSQUE CLAIMS LAD AS VICTIM AT OCEE

Getting into water beyond his depth and becoming afflicted with a drawing cramp, Eudell Edmon Chandler, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Chandler of the Crawford community, was drowned in North Bosque near Ocee yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. Will Chandler, a brother, and Leonard Baker, a brother-in-law, and Irwin Wallace, a chum, all tried to rescue the drowning boy, but their efforts proved fruitless and the body of young Chandler was not rescued until an hour and a half afterwards. First aid measures at resuscitation proved of no avail. The scene of the drowning is a rather deep hole and the undercurrent is rather swift.

The body was prepared for burial by Undertaker F. M. Compton of this city and services will be held this afternoon at Crawford, with interment following in the community cemetery there. Revs. R. E. Smith and W. H. Townsend will officiate.

Beside the mother and father, six sisters and two brothers survive the decedent.

Heavy Decrease in Breadstuffs.

Washington, July 5.—Heavy decreases of breadstuffs but marked increase in wheat and dairy products featured the May foodstuffs export trade of the United States. Statistics issued tonight by the department of commerce showed breadstuffs exports had fallen off $10,000,000 compared to May of last year, while meat and dairy products increased $9,000,000 and mineral oils showed an increase of $5,000,000.

American troops on the one hand and the protection of the frontier on the other are the two essential problems, the solution of which must be the directing order of the efforts of both governments."

Coupled with this definition is an outline of a sort of military status quo beyond the border which the de facto government suggests as a substitute for its previous demands for the withdrawal of the American troops.

It is stated as follows:

"In the meantime (pending mediation or direct negotiation) this government proposes to employ all efforts that may be at its disposal to avoid recurrence of new incidents which may complicate and aggravate the situation. At the same time it hopes that the American government on its part may make use of all efforts to prevent also new acts of its military and civil authorities of the frontier that might cause new complications."

While the object of the negotiations thus is clearly outlined and appears acceptable to the state department, the subjects to be considered specifically will have to be arranged later. President Wilson made it clear time and again that gradual withdrawal of the expeditionary force would be ordered once he was assured that Carranza forces would be able to prevent further bandit outrages against United States territory. It has been noted already that the Mexican troops have occupied and policed the territory relinquished by General Pershing as he drew his men northward. Army officials believe that this, taken in connection with the new assurances given in today's note, may lead to complete withdrawal of the force as rapidly as is possible without endangering the border. It is regarded as improbable that any plan for American pursuit of bandits except possibly within limited areas where a hot trail is to be followed and no Carranza troops available, will be discussed in the new negotiations.

"CANTONMENTS" OBREGON'S IDEA.

A plan for "border cantonments," to which reference is made in the note, was proposed by General Obregon at his conference at El Paso with Major General Scott. General Scott would not consider it then because it was founded on the stipulation that General Pershing's column would be withdrawn immediately. That stipulation, in effect, is now revoked.

General Obregon proposed that at necessary intervals along the border camps of Mexican and American troops be established opposite each other on their respective sides of the line. Information as to bandit movements would be interchanged by the camp commanders and military operations against the raiders be conducted jointly, although each force would remain within its own territory. With one hundred thousand or more guardsmen at the border it would be possible to establish the American camps in a way to make it practically impossible for raiders to escape if real co-operation was given by the Mexicans.

The mobilization of the guard continued today at full speed. It is certain there will be no immediate alteration in the war department plans. Probably a reduction of the border forces would be ordered only after some co-operative plan of action had been agreed upon with the Mexican government and had been tried out sufficiently to leave no doubt as to its practicability.

Unquestionably if no new bandit outbreaks occur the National Guardsmen gradually will be sent back to their homes.

FRENCH ADVANCING BUT BRITISH MEET STIFF RESISTANCE

Russian advance. According to a report from Constantinople by way of Vienna, the Turks have driven the Russians out of Kermanshah.

The Italians are keeping up their strong fight and altogether the view of the whole military field continues promising from the standpoint of the entente allies.

Meanwhile, the political field has almost as absorbing an aspect. The Rumanian government is said to be greatly impressed by the recent military successes of the entente allies and today's news is that the two opposing political parties in Rumania have already joined forces in favor of a pro-entente policy. Hopes therefore are revived that Rumania soon will be found in active co-operation with the allies.

There is reason to believe that although the British government and its allies disavow any real change in policy as a result of the abandonment of the declaration of London, steps have been taken in the neutral countries of Europe which will have the effect of increasing the economic pressure on Germany.

Still Shooting Guards to Border

New York, July 5.—By the departure of more than five thousand troops within the last twenty-four hours the number of National Guardsmen from the department of the east en route to the border or already there was increased to thirty-five thousand. There are mobilized in camps more than sixty thousand, fully one-half of whom are mustered in and awaiting the word to go.

Among the troops to leave for the border today were the Eighteenth Pennsylvania infantry, the general commandind, and the headquarters staff of the Third Pennsylvania brigade; the first separate battalion, a company of signal corps and the Third field hospital corps of the District of Columbia, the Fourth Maryland infantry and the first battalion signal corps of New York.

General Aguilar Sees Peace in Sight

Mexico City, July 5.—General Aguiler, minister of foreign relations, gave out a statement to the press today in which he expressed the greatest optimism as to the result of the interchange of views on the international situation now being conducted between the chancelleries of Washington and this city.

General Aguilar said that the situation had improved most notably in the past few days and that he hoped the pending differences would be arranged in a satisfactory manner in a very short time.

VERY FEW GUARDSMEN ARE ON SICK REPORT

Eagle Pass, Tex., July 5.—Less than 1 per cent of the American troops concentrated at Eagle Pass are on sick report, according to reports today to General Greene. Especial care has been taken in sanitary arrangements of the camps and plans now are under way for the erection of a base hospital capable of caring for all the men stationed on this section of the border.

The three national guard regiments from Vermont, Kansas and Maryland now here have passed the necessary physical examination and most of them have been given the first typhoid prevention treatment. The typhoid treatment will be completed here and those not vaccinated against smallpox will undergo this precaution immediately.

The First Maryland regiment, which arrived today, were treated to a brisk and drenching rain, the first experienced here since January. They escaped the usual midafternoon heat but were forced to pitch camp in the mud.

The national guard units which have arrived here have been well equipped according to General Greene. Their chief lack has been of draft and pack animals which are being furnished as rapidly as possible. Those wearing woolen uniforms will be given khaki at once.

VERMONTER HAS APPENDICITIS.

One private of the Vermont regiment was operated on for appendicitis at the hospital here today. This was the third case in that particular company since the regiment has mibilized.

Important Mexican troop movements have taken place in northern Coahuila in the last twenty-four hours. From the main force of General Francisco Murguia, commanding the so-called army of the northeast concentrated about twelve miles south of Monclova, detachments have been sent to Sabinas, Allende and Fuente on the main line of the Mexican International railway and a small body was sent in to strengthen the garrison at Piedras Negras opposite here.

From Allende, detachments have been sent to Morelos and Zaragoza to the northwest and from Allende toward Guerrero to the southeast. The Rio Grande at this point runs approximately north and south and the line from Zaragoza to a point between Allende and Guerrero would be drawn exactly across the line of a possible advance of American troops from Eagle Pass. This line is approximately thirty-five miles in length and the various points where the de facto troops are stationed are connected by good wagon roads.

Sabinas, to which a fairly large force is reported to have been sent, is midway between Eagle Pass and Monclova and could be used as an advance base for the forces strung along the Zaragoza-Allende line. Fuente is but six kilometers from Piedras Negras and the force there might be used as a reserve to the Piedras Negras garrison.

This disposition is regarded by officers here as founded on sound military precepts. It is regarded as possible however that the disposition may have been made because of the known shortage of forage near Monclova.

SHORT FORAGE MAY BE REASON.

The country between Zaragoza and Guerrero is reported still to have some forage available.

Arrivals today from Mexico City report no obvious troop movements south of Monclova. According to the travelers General Gonzales has a large force in the state of Morelos where he is operating against Zapata, and there is another force concentrated at Puebla.

The troops at Puebla would be in position to dispute the passage of troops from Xera Cruz to Mexico City but as Puebla is southeast of the capital, would not be available for any immediate operations in the north.

According to the travelers, no large force was concentrated at Queretaro or that vicinity so far as they could learn.

BODIES OF CARRIZAL VICTIMS EXHUMED

El Paso, July 5.—The bodies of the American dead at Carrizal exhumed by American undertakers sent from El Paso are on their way to the border, a message received in Juarez said tonight.

Mexican officials expect the bodies to arrive early tomorrow. Plans for bringing the dead to the American side have not been completed but it is probable that the train bearing them will come over the river into El Paso.

English Cabinet to Be Re-Organized

London, July 6.—4:29 a. m.—A reorganization of the cabinet will be necessary when the announcement is made tomorrow or Saturday of Lloyd George's promotion to the war office.

Edwin Montagu, financial secretary of the treasury, is expected to succeed him as minister of munitions.

The Morning Telegraph believes that J. Austin Chamberlain will retire as secretary for India in order that a member of the House of Lords may be appointed, filling the vacancy in the upper house caused by the death of Lord Kitchener.

WHY "ANURIC" IS AN INSURANCE AGAINST SUDDEN DEATH!

Sufferers from Backache, Rheumatism and Kiduey Trouble

Before an insurance company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test the urine and report whether you are a good risk. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells or the twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism and gout. The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment; channels often get sore and sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. This is the time you should consult some physician of wide experience—such as Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Send him 10c for large trial package of his new discovery—"Anuric." Write him your symptoms and send a sample of urine for test. Experience has taught Dr. Pierce that "Anuric" is the most powerful agent in dissolving uric acid, as hot water melts sugar, besides being absolutely harmless and is endowed with other properties, for it preserves the kidneys in a healthy condition by thoroughly cleansing them. Being so many times more active than lithia, it clears the heart valves of any sandy substances which may clog them and checks the degeneration of the blood vessels, as well as regulating blood pressure. "Anuric" is a regular insurance and life-saver for all big meat eaters and those who deposit lime-salts in their joints. Ask the druggist for "Anuric," put up by Dr. Pierce, in 50-cent packages.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for the liver and bowels have been favorably known for nearly 50 years.

RAIN AND THUNDER STORM VISITS HOT WELL CITY, COOLS ATMOSPHERE.

Lieutenant Dewberry Musters in Remnants of Lott Military Company.

Marlin, July 5.—This city was visited last night by another rain and thunderstorm, accompanied by some lightning, cooling things off considerably.

It is estimated that fully eighty Marlin people are camping at Lampasas, a number going every day recently.

Those leaving this week were Earl C. Smith and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Billingsley and children, Miss Ramona Fishburn, Miss Nona Toone, Mrs. W. H. Allen and children, Miss Vivian Brooker, Mr. and Mrs. A. Edgar Smith, Miss Audrey Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Chambers, Miss Katherine Horne, C. C. Beard and Mrs. J. C. Fountain and children.

The following local people are registered at local hotels. E. F. Blackburne, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Schiller, C. Schiller, H. L. Stewart, G. Burnett, R. H. O'Donohue.

Lieut. James Dewberry returned to recruiting headquarters in Waco yesterday after mustering into the service again the remnants of the Lott militia company, who had signed up at Fort Sam Houston but who, when the others refused to sign, were allowed to go home subject to call.

Gonzales Released.

Tucson, Ariz., July 5.—Jesus M. MRS. PARKER BROKE RECORD IN TEXAS

It does not take much liquid Vitalitas to get big results, as a rule, but here is one exception and the record of it is cheerfully given. The report is made by Mrs. N. J. Parker of Boerne, Texas, and is best given in her own words:

"I am anxious to tell what Vitalitas did. Three years ago I had a nervous breakdown and life was not worth living. Having very little faith in doctors, I began taking Vitalitas and continued it until I had used twelve bottles. I gained 40 pounds. I am 57 years of age, and now hardly know what it is to feel tired or sick and am confident Vitalitas made me what I am today."

One or two bottles of Vitalitas are usually sufficient to produce wonderful results, but where cases are chronic or of long standing, a greater amount is required. This is the only case on record, so far as reports show, where as many as twelve bottles have been required to produce cure, even in the most chronic cases. Vitalitas has restored many people to health who believed themselves beyond earthly help. Every drop of it is health-giving. There is nothing in the world like it. It relieves and heals such disorders as indigestion, rheumatism, nervous debility, liver and kidney disorders. For sale by Powers-Kelly Drug store, and all other druggists.

St. Louis Electric Suit Is Settled

St. Louis, July 5.—United States District Judge Trieber, sitting in St. Louis in absence of Judge Dyer, announced today that he had been informed of an agreement in the suit of stockholders of the Missouri Edison company against the Union Electric Light and Power company which has been in dispute for thirteen ye ars.

The Missouri Edison company was absorbed by the Union Electric interests in 1903 and the stockholders were offered $50 a share for their holdings. They brought suit and won judgment for $604,000, which is approximately $101.20 per shaare. Final settlement was held up when lawyers representing the victorious shareholders asked a fee of $96,000.

This fee was agreed upon as reasonable today and Judge Trieber said he would terminate the case tomorrow. Four lawyers, D. T. Bomar of Fort Worth, William R. Thompson, Elenious Smith and Douglas W. Roberts of St. Louis represented the stockholders.

BERLIN NEWSPAPERS STILL OPTIMISTIC

TAGEBLATT CALLS THE ANGLO-FRENCH SUCCESSES TO DATE "VERY SCANTY."

Berlin, July 5.—(Via London)—In view of the fact that the initial attack of every offensive is hardest to withstand owing to the unavoidable effect of surprise with superior masses of troops and accumulated ammunition, the military critics here are unanimous in considering that the great offensive in the west has made a showing which cannot encourage Germany's opponents.

Major Morant, in the Tageblatt, calls the Anglo-French successes "very scanty."

The Morgen Post critic says that the latest reports show that the British and French are gaining no ground but that the central powers have made gains in Volhynia and south of the Dniester.

Other comments follow the same lines, absolute confidence being expressed that the entente allies are unable to menace the German lines anywhere.

American Rabbis Now in Conference

Wildwood, N. J., July 5.—Reporting today to the central conference of American Rabbis in session here, the committee on model constitution, Rabbi Louis Witt, Little Rock, chairman, made a number of important suggestions. Among them were suggestions that membership also should provide for the inclusion of the young people over the age of confirmation and under twenty-one, that unmarried women and widows should be members on the same condition as men and should enjoy the same rights; that seats in the synagogue should be unassigned but it should be the duty of the board of trustees to make reservation sufficient to accommodate the entire membership, and that in fixing the assessments there should be taken into consideration the needs of the congregational budget and the ability to pay possessed by each member, without the stipulation of the minimum amount as condition of membership.

Oklahoma Regiment to Move Next Week

Oklahoma City, Okla., July 5.—The First regiment of the Oklahoma National Guard, now encamped at Fort Sill, Okla., tonight was ordered by the war department to proceed to the Mexican border Wednesday, July 12. One week was allowed by the government for further recruiting, as the organization is not yet at war strength. If other units of the state militia are at war strength by next Wednesday it is thought theq, too, will be ordered to the Rio Grande.

Upon receipt of the order for the infantry to move Governor Williams issued a proclamation calling upon all towns which have contributed to the First infantry to organize locally to aid in facilitate recruiting during the week.

BOSQUE CLAIMS LAD AS VICTIM AT OCEE

Getting into water beyond his depth and becoming afflicted with a drawing cramp, Eudell Edmon Chandler, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Chandler of the Crawford community, was drowned in North Bosque near Ocee yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. Will Chandler, a brother, and Leonard Baker, a brother-in-law, and Irwin Wallace, a chum, all tried to rescue the drowning boy, but their efforts proved fruitless and the body of young Chandler was not rescued until an hour and a half afterwards. First aid measures at resuscitation proved of no avail. The scene of the drowning is a rather deep hole and the undercurrent is rather swift.

The body was prepared for burial by Undertaker F. M. Compton of this city and services will be held this afternoon at Crawford, with interment following in the community cemetery there. Revs. R. E. Smith and W. H. Townsend will officiate.

Beside the mother and father, six sisters and two brothers survive the decedent.

Heavy Decrease in Breadstuffs.

Washington, July 5.—Heavy decreases of breadstuffs but marked increase in wheat and dairy products featured the May foodstuffs export trade of the United States. Statistics issued tonight by the department of commerce showed breadstuffs exports had fallen off $10,000,000 compared to May of last year, while meat and dairy products increased $9,000,000 and mineral oils showed an increase of $5,000,000.

American troops on the one hand and the protection of the frontier on the other are the two essential problems, the solution of which must be the directing order of the efforts of both governments."

Coupled with this definition is an outline of a sort of military status quo beyond the border which the de facto government suggests as a substitute for its previous demands for the withdrawal of the American troops.

It is stated as follows:

"In the meantime (pending mediation or direct negotiation) this government proposes to employ all efforts that may be at its disposal to avoid recurrence of new incidents which may complicate and aggravate the situation. At the same time it hopes that the American government on its part may make use of all efforts to prevent also new acts of its military and civil authorities of the frontier that might cause new complications."

While the object of the negotiations thus is clearly outlined and appears acceptable to the state department, the subjects to be considered specifically will have to be arranged later. President Wilson made it clear time and again that gradual withdrawal of the expeditionary force would be ordered once he was assured that Carranza forces would be able to prevent further bandit outrages against United States territory. It has been noted already that the Mexican troops have occupied and policed the territory relinquished by General Pershing as he drew his men northward. Army officials believe that this, taken in connection with the new assurances given in today's note, may lead to complete withdrawal of the force as rapidly as is possible without endangering the border. It is regarded as improbable that any plan for American pursuit of bandits except possibly within limited areas where a hot trail is to be followed and no Carranza troops available, will be discussed in the new negotiations.

"CANTONMENTS" OBREGON'S IDEA.

A plan for "border cantonments," to which reference is made in the note, was proposed by General Obregon at his conference at El Paso with Major General Scott. General Scott would not consider it then because it was founded on the stipulation that General Pershing's column would be withdrawn immediately. That stipulation, in effect, is now revoked.

General Obregon proposed that at necessary intervals along the border camps of Mexican and American troops be established opposite each other on their respective sides of the line. Information as to bandit movements would be interchanged by the camp commanders and military operations against the raiders be conducted jointly, although each force would remain within its own territory. With one hundred thousand or more guardsmen at the border it would be possible to establish the American camps in a way to make it practically impossible for raiders to escape if real co-operation was given by the Mexicans.

The mobilization of the guard continued today at full speed. It is certain there will be no immediate alteration in the war department plans. Probably a reduction of the border forces would be ordered only after some co-operative plan of action had been agreed upon with the Mexican government and had been tried out sufficiently to leave no doubt as to its practicability.

Unquestionably if no new bandit outbreaks occur the National Guardsmen gradually will be sent back to their homes.

FRENCH ADVANCING BUT BRITISH MEET STIFF RESISTANCE

Russian advance. According to a report from Constantinople by way of Vienna, the Turks have driven the Russians out of Kermanshah.

The Italians are keeping up their strong fight and altogether the view of the whole military field continues promising from the standpoint of the entente allies.

Meanwhile, the political field has almost as absorbing an aspect. The Rumanian government is said to be greatly impressed by the recent military successes of the entente allies and today's news is that the two opposing political parties in Rumania have already joined forces in favor of a pro-entente policy. Hopes therefore are revived that Rumania soon will be found in active co-operation with the allies.

There is reason to believe that although the British government and its allies disavow any real change in policy as a result of the abandonment of the declaration of London, steps have been taken in the neutral countries of Europe which will have the effect of increasing the economic pressure on Germany.

Still Shooting Guards to Border

New York, July 5.—By the departure of more than five thousand troops within the last twenty-four hours the number of National Guardsmen from the department of the east en route to the border or already there was increased to thirty-five thousand. There are mobilized in camps more than sixty thousand, fully one-half of whom are mustered in and awaiting the word to go.

Among the troops to leave for the border today were the Eighteenth Pennsylvania infantry, the general commandind, and the headquarters staff of the Third Pennsylvania brigade; the first separate battalion, a company of signal corps and the Third field hospital corps of the District of Columbia, the Fourth Maryland infantry and the first battalion signal corps of New York.

General Aguilar Sees Peace in Sight

Mexico City, July 5.—General Aguiller, minister of foreign relations, gave out a statement to the press today in which he expressed the greatest optimism as to the result of the interchange of views on the international situation now being conducted between the chancellories of Washington and this city.

General Aguilar said that the situation had improved most notably in the past few days and that he hoped the pending differences would be arranged in a satisfactory manner in a very short time.

VERY FEW GUARDSMEN ARE ON SICK REPORT

Eagle Pass, Tex., July 5.—Less than 1 per cent of the American troops concentrated at Eagle Pass are on sick report, according to reports today to General Greene. Especial care has been taken in sanitary arrangements of the camps and plans now are under way for the erection of a base hospital capable of caring for all the men stationed on this section of the border.

The three national guard regiments from Vermont, Kansas and Maryland now here have passed the necessary physical examination and most of them have been given the first typhoid prevention treatment. The typhoid treatment will be completed here and those not vaccinated against smallpox will undergo this precaution immediately.

The First Maryland regiment, which arrived today, were treated to a brisk and drenching rain, the first experienced here since January. They escaped the usual midafternoon heat but were forced to pitch camp in the mud.

The national guard units which have arrived here have been well equipped according to General Greene. Their chief lack has been of draft and pack animals which are being furnished as rapidly as possible. Those wearing woolen uniforms will be given khaki at once.

VERMONTER HAS APPENDICITIS.

One private of the Vermont regiment was operated on for appendicitis at the hospital here today. This was the third case in that particular company since the regiment has mibilized.

Important Mexican troop movements have taken place in northern Coahuila in the last twenty-four hours. From the main force of General Francisco Murguia, commanding the so-called army of the northeast concentrated about twelve miles south of Monclova, detachments have been sent to Sabinas, Allende and Fuente on the main line of the Mexican Lnternational railway and a small body was sent in to strengthen the garrison at Piedras Negras opposite here.

From Allende, detachments have been sent to Morelos and Zaragoza to the northwest and from Allende toward Guerrero to the southeast. The Rio Grande at this point runs approximately north and south and the line from Zaragoza to a point between Allende and Guerrero would be drawn exactly across the line of a possible advance of American troops from Eagle Pass. This line is approximately thirty-five miles in length and the various points where the de facto troops are stationed are connected by good wagon roads.

Sabinas, to which a fairly large force is reported to have been sent, is midway between Eagle Pass and Monclova and could be used as an advance base for the forces strung along the Zaragoza-Allende line. Fuente is but six kilometers from Piedras Negras and the force there might be used as a reserve to the Piedras Negras garrison.

This disposition is regarded by officers here as founded on sound military precepts. It is regarded as possible however that the disposition may have been made because of the known shortage of forage near Monclova.

SHORT FORAGE MAY BE REASON.

The country between Zaragoza and Guerrero is reported still to have some forage available.

Arrivals today from Mexico City report no obvious troop movements south of Monclova. According to the travelers General Gonzales has a large force in the state of Morelos where he is operating against Zapata, and there is another force concentrated at Puebla.

The troops at Puebla would be in position to dispute the passage of troops from Xera Cruz to Mexico City but as Puebla is southeast of the capital, would not be available for any immediate operations in the north.

According to the travelers, no large force was concentrated at Queretaro or that vicinity so far as they could learn.

BODIES OF CARRIZAL VICTIMS EXHUMED

El Paso, July 5.—The bodies of the American dead at Carrizal exhumed by American undertakers sent from El Paso are on their way to the border, a message received in Juarez said tonight.

Mexican officials expect the bodies to arrive early tomorrow. Plans for bringing the dead to the American side have not been completed but it is probable that the train bearing them will come over the river into El Paso.

English Cabinet to Be Re-Organized

London, July 6.—4:29 a. m.—A reorganization of the cabinet will be necessary when the announcement is made tomorrow or Saturday of Lloyd George's promotion to the war office.

Edwin Montagu, financial secretary of the treasury, is expected to succeed him as minister of munitions.

The Morning Telegraph believes that J. Austin Chamberlain will retire as secretary for India in order that a member of the House of Lords may be appointed, filling the vacancy in the upper house caused by the death of Lord Kitchener.

WHY "ANURIC" IS AN INSURANCE AGAINST SUDDEN DEATH!

Sufferers from Backache, Rheumatism and Kiduey Trouble

Before an insurance company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test the urine and report whether you are a good risk. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells or the twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism and gout. The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment; channels often get sore and sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. This is the time you should consult some physician of wide experience—such as Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Send him 10c for large trial package of his new discovery—"Anuric." Write him your symptoms and send a sample of urine for test. Experience has taught Dr. Pierce that "Anuric" is the most powerful agent in dissolving uric acid, as hot water melts sugar, besides being absolutely harmless and is endowed with other properties, for it preserves the kidneys in a healthy condition by thoroughly cleansing them. Being so many times more active than lithia, it clears the heart valves of any sandy substances which may clog them and checks the degeneration of the blood vessels, as well as regulating blood pressure. "Anuric" is a regular insurance and life-saver for all big meat eaters and those who deposit lime-salts in their joints. Ask the druggist for "Anuric," put up by Dr. Pierce, in 50-cent packages.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for the liver and bowels have been favorably known for nearly 50 years.

RAIN AND THUNDER STORM VISITS HOT WELL CITY, COOLS ATMOSPHERE.

Lieutenant Dewberry Musters in Remnants of Lott Military Company.

Marlin, July 5.—This city was visited last night by another rain and thunderstorm, accompanied by some lightning, cooling things off considerably.

It is estimated that fully eighty Marlin people are camping at Lampasas, a number going every day recently.

Those leaving this week were Earl C. Smith and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Billingsley and children, Miss Ramona Fishburn, Miss Nona Toone, Mrs. W. H. Allen and children, Miss Vivian Brooker, Mr. and Mrs. A. Edgar Smith, Miss Audrey Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Chambers, Miss Katherine Horne, C. C. Beard and Mrs. J. C. Fountain and children.

The following local people are registered at local hotels. E. F. Blackburne, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Schiller, C. Schiller, H. L. Stewart, G. Burnett, R. H. O'Donohue.

Lieut. James Dewberry returned to recruiting headquarters in Waco yesterday after mustering into the service again the remnants of the Lott militia company, who had signed up at Fort Sam Houston but who, when the others refused to sign, were allowed to go home subject to call.

Gonzales Released.

Tucson, Ariz., July 5.—Jesus M. Gonzales, deputy assessor of the state of Sonora, Mex., arrested here more than a week ago on the charge of attempt to incite Mexican residents in Arizona to rise against Americans, has been released. The evidence, it was said, was inconclusive. The case of Gonzales was one about which Mexican Arbassador Designate Arredondo complained to the American state department.

MRS. ROY GOEBEL IS HOSTESS AT BRIDGE

Twelve tables of bridge were delightfully entertained on Tuesday during the morning hours by Mrs. Roy Goebel at her home on Twenty-second and Marrow. Decorations, suggested by the call of patriotism nowadays, were flags in prettiest designs. Daisies in rooms, zinnias in hall and on porch gave the floral touch, where the game was in progress. The tempting luncheon plate served on bamboo trays followed further the patriotic idea, each plate bearing a tiny flag and each tray holding a blooming plant wrapped in white tissue and tied with red, white and blue ribbons. In the cut for table markers the places went to Mrs. Robert Coleman, Mrs. A. A. Patton, Mrs. Edwin Carroll, Mrs. Coke Horne, Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Mrs. Janey Smith, Mrs. Eva Prendergast, Mrs. J. W. Orand, Mrs. Ben Molding, Mrs. Chancey Prade, Misses Ellen Harden, Marie Moore Moore.

This was the largest bridge gathering of the season and was just for the pleasure Mrs. Gobel felt in having friends in her own attractive home. Callers after the game were Mrs. Ralph McLendon, Mrs. Harbert Davis, Miss Kate Edmond, Miss Davis of Wichita, Kansas; Mrs. R. L. Smith, Mrs. Will Dugger and Mrs. O. K. Stetler assisted the hostess.

Mrs. Kyle Vick was given a white flower bowl on which blue and white birds were perched. Mrs. A. E. Moore captured a bud vase as consolation.

MISS ELIZABETH WITT HAS BIRTHDAY PARTY

"There's no dew left on the daisies and clover,
I've said my "seven times" over and over,

On Tuesday afternoon little Miss Elizabeth Witt of Austin avenue was hostess to a large crowd of her little friends in honor of her seventh birthday. All the usual childish games were played and real enjoyment reigned throughout the afternoon. Later the birthday cake was brought out and cut. The dime went to Annie Laurie Kirksey, button to Esther Lord, ring to Henry Wonderlick, thimble to Ira Dryden. Ice cream cones were served and souvenirs given each child, the girls receiving red, white and blue balls and the boys flags. Little Elizabeth's seventh birthday is recorded as one of the happiest of the fourth of July entertainments. Mrs. Witt invited as guests of her daughter Margaret Jordan, Harry Jordan, Esther Lord, Walter Lacy, Jr., Annie Laurie Kirksey, Mary Dryden, Ira Dryden, Mary Clifton, Pauline Barrett, Courts Guthrie, Lex Hollis, Mary Ann Woodward, Susanne Carroll, Nell Colgin, Elizabeth Colgin, Henry Wunderlick, Wilma Wunderlick, Francis Shaffer, Morton Witt, Louise Ransome.

The Huaco club with its wide veranda, its wide-open windows inviting the breezes from without, was the setting for the Fourth of July celebration on Tuesday. Twelve tables of bridge were employed by those seeking this diversion, with Mrs. S. E. Stratton scoring high. The tables were arranged beneath the red, the white and blue of bunting and in deference to the day draperies of American flags added to the attractiveness of the scene.

Miss Virginia Rose made high score in the mixed foursome and was presented with a pretty favor. Chester Story scored high for the men and was given golf balls for proficiency.

The miniature putting match on the green in front of the club house resulted in Miss Nora Gorman and T. F. Bush being the winners of a silver bud vase and box of cigars.

The cafeteria supper was very delightful and more than seventy-five members and guests enjoyed this novel feature.

In addition to the cafeteria supper served in the banquet room, there were fourteen tables reserved in the summer dining hall for smaller groups. Among these were:

William Abeel and his guests, Misses Frances Hays, Anna Fry Jones, Ethel Foster, Emma Farrar with Messrs. Tom F. Bush, Coman Shear and Bruce Duncan.

Seated at another table were William J. Thrasher with Misses Pauline McLendon, Virginia Eddins with Messrs. Ed Humphreys and Blair Stribling.

R. J. Windrow had as guests Misses Sallye Thompson, Birge of Sherman, Mazie Turner, Norma Bonner, Anne Risher, with Messrs. Cress, Eaton, Floyd Holland, Dero Wood and Waters.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Minier had with them Mr. and Mrs. John B. Cooper, Mrs. J. M. Rider, Miss Florrie Neal Cooper, Melburn Cooper and J. R. Minier.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Pio Crespi, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gregg and Mr. and Mrs. N. K. Smith, with Messrs. Ed Thorpe and Franklin Lindsey, formed another group.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bayless Earle had Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Shear and Mrs. Walter V. Fort as guests.

At another table were Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Stribling, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Risher, Mrs. R. L. Henry and Mrs. C. E. Smith.

Walter V. Fort and Charles Shear were with Misses Pauline McLendon and Nell Orand.

Mr. and Mrs. William Waldo Cameron had as guests Misses Eloise Fort, Ida Orand, Eleanor Cameron and Mr. Washington of Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ray had the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moran and Miss Dorothy Wier of Houston.

Occupying a table were Mrs. Sam McLendon, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hays and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Massey.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cowan, Mrs. William Breustedt with Mr. J. D. Williamson formed a dinner party.

N. C. Belding had as guest Miss Lucile Lewis.

Large American flags were crossed on the stairs leading to the ball room above. Here the scene took on a gala effect, the breeze waving the hundreds of flags used for decoration. The great ball room accommodated many guests the decorative effect was beautiful and plans for the hospitality were original and pleasing. The orchestra found place upon the stage which was banked with foliage and interwoven with flags. The "lucky dance" afforded much pleasure and amusement. In this the floors were marked in circles, each being numbered. At unexpected intervals, the music would suddenly cease and the couple standing on or nearest the number was given a reward, a box of candy to the lady, a box of cigars to the gentleman.

Mrs. Hal E. Moody, general chairman, deserves highest praise for her untiring energy in making this occasion one always to be remembered with pleasure. She was ably assisted by Mrs. Turner Hubby, Mrs. John Wright, Mrs. Irwin Colgin and Mrs. Buford McWhirter.

Mrs. May Tait Keon.

Lillian Nordica's dream of an American University of Music is about to be made a reality by Mrs. May Tait Keon of New York, a wealthy woman. Mrs. Keon, a friend of the famous prima donna, and devoted to music herself, has secured the site on the Hudson river, at Harmon, N. Y., with its buildings, at nearly $150,000.

Santo Domingo Revolution Over

Washington, July 5.—An agreement for disarmament of Santo Domingo revolutionists virtually has been perfected by a peace conference in which the various Dominican factions were represented, according to a dispatch to the navy department today from Rear Admiral Caperton. The conference is said to have paved the way for suspension of hostilities while further negotiations over the future form of the Dominican government are in progress.

The agreement was regarded by officials here as indicating the collapse of the revolution led by General Arias, and forecasting a nearly restoration of peace in the turbulent little rpeublic, so that the contemplated new regime with American supervision similar to that now exercised in Haiti soon might be established.

Admiral Caperton, American Minister Russell and the archbishop of Santo Domingo were present at the peace conference, co-operating with the commissions representing the various governmental factions. The admiral himself submitted the proposal for disarmament.

The present revolutionary movement, one of many within the past few years began a little over two months ago. About two thousand American marines and blue jackets have been landed to aid in restoring order. Three members of the American force have been killed.

Orpet Has Inning in Murder Trial.

Waukegan, Ill., July 5.—The contention of the prosecution in the case of William H. Orpet, university student charged with the murder of 18-year-old Marion Lambert, that cyanide of potassium in solution caused her death was dealt several blows today by Dr. J. A. Wesner, a chemist and toxicologist.

The very root of the two theories as to Marion's death is involved in the question whether a supersaturate of the poison was used of whether it was taken in solid or powdered form. If a solution, the state contends that murder was committed, as no container was found after the tragedy, leaving only the explanation that Orpet took it away with him. The powdered poison, however, could have been carried by the girl in a paper and numerous natural causes would account for its disappearance.

Dr. Wesner gave a wealth of reasons for his theory that the cyanide was taken in powdered form.

Hhe asserted also in reply to a hypothetical question that the cyanide available to young Orpet in the greenhouse over which the defendant's father has charge was so much weaker than that found in the girl's stomach that no combination of circumstances could have increased it to strength of that which caused death.

Secretary Redfield Talks to Teachers

New York, July 5.—William C. Redfield, secretary of commerce of the United States, addressing the convention of the National Education association on indus-trial education here tonight, declared that "it is the high ideal of vocational education to fertilize the field of labor so that each successive age shall produce more and more of that which shall bless the age to come."

"Vocational education has a high social function in that it does enlarge the factor of safety in human life," he said. "It makes it just so much the harder for the wof to reach the door."

Philander P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, in an address opposing compulsory military training in the schools, asserted that if we want real preparedness in America we should appoint a committee to devise a national system of education 'which shall be democratic, flexible and practical."

"Just think of the situation," said Mr. Claxton. "Not for twenty years can any big nation think of invading us, and then we shall be 150,000,000 strong. If we are well prepared and our minds are conscious of our might we will be unconquerable."

Danes Plan Rescue Work.

London, July 5, 4:20 p. m.—A new project for saving life at the time of naval encounters is reported in a dispatch from Copenhagen. It says a number of prominent Danes, actuated by the idea that many sailors might have been saved during the North sea battle if boats had been sent out, intend to organize a fleet of several hundred motor boats along the west coast of Jutland. These boats, flying the Red Cross flag, will be sent out to pick up the wounded after each sea battle.

What the Doctor Asked

One of the questions the examining physician for life insurance is apt to ask the applicant whose heart is skipping beats or is fluttery is—

"Do you use coffee?"

The reason coffee is suspected is because the physician knows that the drug, caffeine, in coffee disturbs the nervous system, races the heart, and is responsible besides for conditions which often become serious.

It's a good thing to stop when one reaches the danger trouble by quitting coffee and using the famous pure food-drink

POSTUM

This delightful beverage is made of finest wheat, roasted with a little wholesome molasses, and while it tastes much like mild Java coffee, it contains only the nourishing goodness of the grain—no coffee—no drug—no harmful ingredient whatever.

There are two forms of Postum. The original Postum Cereal must be boiled. Instant Postum—a soluble powder—is made in the cup with hot water—instantly! Both forms are equal in flavor, and cost about the same per cup.

Thousands of people have found the way to renewed health by a change from coffee to Postum. There are no coffee "questions" in Postum.

To Keep Your Baby Perfectly Well This Summer

1. Keep the baby cool.
2. Keep him outdoors as much as possible.
3. Give him plenty of boiled water.
4. Consult your doctor at the first sign of illness.
5. Make his food light. Don't give him raw cow's milk with its heavy, indigestible curd—and its germs of summer complaint, that kills more babies than any other cause in the world.

Nurse your baby if you can. If you can't, give him the food that's as safe from germs—and as light—as mother's milk itself—

Nestlé's Food
(A Complete Food—Not a Milk Modifier)

Nestlé's is safe—free from dangers of raw cow's milk.

In Nestlé's you get milk from healthy cows, purified—free from germs—the calf needs are modified, the baby needs are added. Reduced to powder—it comes to you in an air-tight can. No hand has touched it—no germ can reach it. It is a complete food—so you add only water and boil one minute—and you know that you are giving your baby the food his little body needs.

Don't shock your baby's stomach by changing him from your breast milk to raw cow's milk. In Nestlé's he will feel no change.

MRS. ROY GOEBEL IS HOSTESS AT BRIDGE

Twelve tables of bridge were delightfully entertained on Tuesday during the morning hours by Mrs. Roy Goebel at her home on Twenty-second and Marrow. Decorations, suggested by the call of patriotism nowadays, were flags in prettiest designs. Daisies in rooms, zinnias in hall and on porch gave the floral touch, where the game was in progress. The tempting luncheon plate served on bamboo trays followed further the patriotic idea, each plate bearing a tiny flag and each tray holding a blooming plant wrapped in white tissue and tied with red, white and blue ribbons. In the cut for table markers the places went to Mrs. Robert Coleman, Mrs. A. A. Patton, Mrs. Edwin Carroll, Mrs. Coke Horne, Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Mrs. Janey Smith, Mrs. Eva Prendergast, Mrs. J. W. Orand, Mrs. Ben Molding, Mrs. Chancey Prade, Misses Ellen Harden, Marie Moore Moore.

This was the largest bridge gathering of the season and was just for the pleasure Mrs. Gobel felt in having friends in her own attractive home. Callers after the game were Mrs. Ralph McLendon, Mrs. Harbert Davis, Miss Kate Edmond, Miss Davis of Wichita, Kansas; Mrs. R. L. Smith, Mrs. Will Dugger and Mrs. O. K. Stetler assisted the hostess.

Mrs. Kyle Vick was given a white flower bowl on which blue and white birds were perched. Mrs. A. E. Moore captured a bud vase as consolation.

Playing were Mesdames Ben Moulden, Kyle Vick, Rob Coleman, Will Carroll, Ed Laughlin, Dr. Witte, Coke Horne, Robert Montgomery, Carl Risner, H. M. MISS ELIZABETH WITT HAS BIRTHDAY PARTY

"There's no dew left on the daisies and
I've said my "seven times" over and
Seven times one are seven."

On Tuesday afternoon little Miss Elizabeth Witt of Austin avenue was hostess to a large crowd of her little friends in honor of her seventh birthday. All the usual childish games were played and real enjoyment reigned throughout the afternoon. Later the birthday cake was brought out and cut. The dime went to Annie Laurie Kirksey, button to Esther Lord, ring to Henry Wonderlick, thimble to Ira Dryden. Ice cream cones were served and souvenirs given each child, the girls receiving red, white and blue balls and the boys flags. Little Elizabeth's seventh birthday is recorded as one of the happiest of the fourth of July entertainments. Mrs. Witt invited as guests of her daughter Margaret Jordan, Harry Jordan, Esther Lord, Walter Lacy, Jr., Annie Laurie Kirksey, Mary Dryden, Ira Dryden, Mary Clifton, Pauline Barrett, Courts Guthrie, Lex Hollis, Mary Ann Woodward, Susanne Carroll, Nell Colgin, Elizabeth Colgin, Henry Wunderlick, Wilma Wunderlick, Francis Shaffer, Morton Witt, Louise Ransome.

HOW IT WILL WORK.

The M. K. & T. Railway of Texas has issued a statement showing how the proposed "eight-hour" day will affect it, that throws a flood of light upon th controversy now raging over that subject. It says:

"Mixed" trains Numbers 58 and 59 operate daily, except Sunday, between Dallas and Denton, Texas. One crew, consisting of an engineer, a fireman, a conductor and two brakemen, is assigned to this run. During the month of October, 1915, this crew worked twenty-six days.

The conductor was paid $136.82, an average of $5.26 per day.

The two brakemen were paid $182.41, anaverage of $91.20 each—or $3.51 per man per day.

The engineer was paid $158.95, an average of $6.11 per day.

The fireman was paid $98.37, an average of $3.78 per day.

This is followed by a table which shows how the proposed increase would affect the wages of each of the above employes:

Conductor, present pay for twenty-six days' work, $136.82; proposed, $197.25; present average pay per day, $5.26; proposed, $7.50; proposed increase over present pay, $60.43; per cent of increase, 44.

Brakeman, present pay for twenty-six days' work, $91.20; proposed, $131.50; present average pay per day, $3.51; proposed, $5.06; proposed increase over present pay, $40.30; per cent of increase, 44.

Engineer, present pay for twenty-six days' work, $158.95; proposed, $225.40; present average pay per day, $6.11; proposed, $8.67; proposed increase over present pay, $66.45; per cent of increase, 42.

Fireman, present pay for twenty-six days' work, $98.37; proposed, $139.76; present average pay per day, $3.78; proposed, $5.38; proposed increase over present pay, $41.39; per cent of increase, 42.

The further statement is made that the inaugural of the "eight hour" day would add $100,000,000 a year to the cost of railroad operation, or an average of $5 a year for each family in the United States.

This is a matter in which the public has a vital interest, and the facts submitted by the Katy are worth studying.

The state bar association at Galveston adopted a resolution favoring the creation of a new appellate tribunal to consider applications for writs of error. The reply the people will make if they can find agents to execute their wishes will be to abolish the present courts of civil appeal and the court of criminal appeals, and give one appeal directly to the supreme court, organized with sufficient judges to dispose of business. It will be a rash man who dares to go before the people in advocacy of three several appellate courts in the face of the complete failure of the present system.

SICK OR WELL—WHICH?

In his speech at Stephenville yesterday on behalf of Senator Culberson, Judge Barry Miller referred to Mr. Henry as a "political ingrate; the man that Culberson put in the attorney general's office and gave a chance to go to congress. And he is the on man in this race to raise the issue that his friend, the man who made him, is physically unfit to fill the office."

In reply to Mr. Henry, Judge Miller quoted the certificate of Mr. Bailey, and of a physician which have been printed. These do not dispose of the question. If Mr. Henry is right, and Senator Culberson is physically unable to serve, he should not ask to be returned.

A public office is a public trust, not a family heritage.

This was not the only thrust Judge Miller made at Mr. Henry. He declared that Culberson "is the only hope of the antis," and that "Bob Henry has no chance to go to the United States senate."

Some of those who have been supporting Culberson will be surprised to find his candidacy pitched upon the ground that "it is the only hope of the antis."

Of Colquitt, Judge Miller said never a word. Why this concentration of attack upon Henry? Is not Colquitt something of an "anti hope" himself?

It is announced that several speakers will take the stump for Culberson—who will make no speeches for himself.

It is up to Mr. Henry to demonstrate that when he said Culberson was unable physically to serve the state in the senate, he declared a condition which the people are entitled to know. If he was right about it, the charge that he is "a political ingrate" is untimely, and merely a bit of artifice used to evade the issue.

Carranza's latest note shows a belated recognition of the fact that the Washington government is in earnest, and is not to be toyed with longer. He professes a willingness to act in concert with this country in putting an end to border brigandage, and proposes mediation of present differences. The note carefully avoids any threat of attack upon the American troops now in Mexico. While conditions call for actions rather than words, this note seems to open the way to a peaceful solution of the Mexican problem. The presence of 100,000 American soldiers on the border is an argument that proves to be more convincing in this case than all the diplomatic notes that have been heretofore exchanged.

Viscount Bryce declared at a public function in London that the war would not end in a draw, and would never end until "the evil spirit has been exorcised which threatens not only Europe but all countries—America included." If that is a well-founded prophecy, it means that the war may still be in progress when the snows thaw in the spring of 1917.

Judge Barry Miller says Culberson could do more with a postal card than any new man could do. Maybe so; but Texas is not willing yet to try to get along with a postal card effect in the senate.

Candidate Morris declares that his wife makes a splendid brand of lye soap. If Gov. Ferguson doubts this, there are plenty of water holes around, and the weather is favorable for a test.

Russian cavalry have crossed the Carpathians, and descended upon the plains of Hungary. This is the goal for which the Bear has been reaching for several months. His next move will be to cut off the supplies which have been going from this vast granary to Germany.

Senator Culberson pleads guilty to inability to endure strenuous exaction and enters a general denial to the charge of permanent disability. What a splendid opportunity for expert medical testimony!

Thiaumont has changed hands eight times, and the battle still rages around it. That kind of fighting means that somebody will be exhausted before many moons go by.

Gov. Campbell will ride a pet donkey to the court house lawn today. It was Judge Terrell who first taught the politicians to ride a mule and that mule, or where is he?

Mr. Hughes says the nation needs more than thrills in its patriotism. Quite true, but why harry Teddy in this manner after he has made such an abject apology?

New York Soldier Falls on Bayonet in Dallas

Dallas, July 5.—Harry A. Cuffler of Company C, Twelfth New York infantry, is seriously injured in a hospital here, it became known tonight, as a result of an accidentally inflicted bayonet wound received when the New York troops passed through here Monday. Cuffler was given orders to allow no one to leave the train while it stopped here. He was descending the car steps to perform his duties when he slipped and fell on his bayonet, which struck him in the chest. Physicians have not yet pronounced him out of danger.

Cuffler was officially reported "lost" when his regiment arrived at the border. The adjutant general's department at Washington was asked for information concerning the young soldier, but the inquirers were referred, it was understood, to General Funston at San Antonio, who in turn was without information.

Companions believed, according to news here, that Cuffler had mysteriously dropped from the train while in transit.

Southern Pacific Raises Wages of Section Hands

San Francisco, July 5.—The Southern Pacific company announced today an increase of 25 cents a day for all section hands excepting Mexicans and Chinese employed on its railroad lines in California, Nevada, New Mexico and Arizona. Section workers at present receive $1.75 per day. About 3,000 men are affected. The section workers are unorganized and have made no demands on the railroad.

Returning to Matamoros.

Brownsville, July 5.—The civil population of Matamoros who left their homes for the interior last week on reports that American troops were going into Mexico, are returning to the city, according to the advices received here tonight reported by Consul Johnson from the clerk left in charge of his office there. There is a general belief in Matamoros, Consul Johnson was informed, that the indicated conciliatory tone of General Carranza's answer to Secretary Lansing's note will lead to a diplomatic settlement of the differences between Mexico and the United States.

Judge George N. Denton Is Recognized as Jurist Who Hammers Down to Business

JUDGE GEORGE N. DENTON.

You'd never think for a minute that Judge Denton was a candidate for office should you have occasion to call on him on one of his busy days in court, as for instance yesterday, when a representative of the Waco Morning News visited the judge in his court room. The judge is thoroughly business, believes in looking after his duties regardless of politics, candidacies, etc. And they tell it on him around the courthouse that when he does a thing, whether it is trying a case, or looking after some other part of the county's judicial business, it is done, finished, and completed.

Judge Denton is a veteran at his present vocation, having served the public in a legal capacity for twenty-one years, the past four years serving as county judge of McLennan county. Because of the duties imposed upon him as county judge, he has been kept from making as close a canvass of the district as otherwise he would have made, but he feels that keeping up his record, of looking well after the county's businss, even up to the last minute before the election, will be appreciated by the voters of McLennan county and his district more than would a more thorough canvass.

The efficient manner in which Judge Denton has performed his duties as county judge should be given careful consideration by the people of the nineteenth judicial district. He is in every way fully qualified to discharge the duties of district judge in every detail. The conscientious manner in which he has performed the duties of his judgeship not only fits him for his new office, but entitles him to the added recognition of district judge. One of his friends put his candidacy fairly and honestly for him this week when he was heard to say "I am going to vote for Judge Denton because I know he is a man, I have seen him tried out under every condition and I know that he is true to the duties imposed upon him and thoroughly competent. I do not say this in unfairness to any of his opponents, but I believe in giving a man what he has justly won."

"I appreciate the confidence of the people very much," said Judge Denton to a News reporter, and if they see fit to honor me with this higher office, I will give them the very best service of which I am capable." In this spirit of fairness he is making the race for district judg,e trusting to the voters of the nineteenth judicial district to verify their confidence and demonstrate their faith in him as their judicial officer. Judge Denton is entitled to the highest confidence of the voters in his district which might be placed in him through the twenty-one years of public life. He has yet his first time to betray the confidence of his people and his friends.—Political advertisement.

DAILY SHORT STORY.

TARDY, BUT TRUE.

By ELSIE SEE.

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

It was well known in Plainville that Madge Ingram, who five years ago had refused to wed Jim Butler, the merchant prince of the town, was now getting a good salary as private secretary to a city lawyer. It was equally well known that the merchant's young wife of a year kept a servant and an automobile and had charge accounts at the city department stores. Every time Madge came home for a vacation, Plainville weighed the respective merits of her independence and the merchant's wife's affluence, but the shrewdest of the gossips did not suspect that a memory ante-dating her affair with Jim Butler meant more to Madge than anything that had come into her life.

One summer morning Madge alighted from the 6 o'clock train for her vacation without having told of her coming, as she preferred to surprise her parents by appearing unannounced for breakfast. She hurried up the quiet street and, slipping quietly through the yard gate, she picked a handful of dewy nasturtiums before stepping around to the side porch and knocking at the kitchen door.

"My dear child! I just felt you'd come soon!" exclaimed her mother at sight of her.

"The same dear mother—can't be surprised!" laughed Madge, as they embraced.

"But I can be glad, and I am, dearie," said the mother, with a catch in her voice. "And here's crisp bacon and fried apples and hot biscuit just as if you'd ordered your favorite summer breakfast."

"And I'm ready for the breakfast, too," said Madge, with a happy sigh. "But where's father?"

"He's in the garden," said Mrs. Ingram, and the next moment Madge was in the garden too, and in her father's arms. No sooner, though, had he begun to point out the excellence of his tomatoes and sweet corn than Mrs. Ingram summoned them to breakfast.

"What's doing today, mother? Is there a picnic?" asked Madge, after breakfast.

"Now, how did you guess that?"

"I saw Tom Jordan hauling some giant ice cream freezers and a lot of fruit up to the Maplewood pasture and, oh, I saw a distinguished-looking man in gray tweed over near the hotel. He looked like a man of affairs above and beyond Plainville picnics."

"That must have been Tom Whitlow. He's here for a visit, and he dresses like that and is staying at the hotel."

"Used to drive Butler's delivery wagon. But they say he's made something of himself. He is manager of some mines out West somewhere, and I guess he deserves credit, for his folks were poor as Job's turkey."

"But Tom was bright and gentlemanly," said Madge quickly, "and he used to help me do my arithmetic problems, although he wouldn't talk to me outside."

"I guess he's still kind o' quiet," said Mrs. Ingram, "for they wanted him to make a speech at the picnic and he made excuses that he'd rather listen than be heard."

That afternoon Madge went with her parents to the picnic, and, although she felt a certain pleasure in greeting her old friends and answering their unvarying questions about her health and her impressions of local improvements, she soon began to feel keenly that she was no longer in sympathy with their lives or they with hers. When people began to gather to listen to the speeches of the county candidates for office and of the local politician who introduced the speakers, Madge slipped away and went across the little stream and up the hill to the north where she had often gone for wild flowers.

A thick undergrowth had changed the appearance of the hillside, but she soon found what she was seeking, a big oak tree, with a gnarled limb near the ground that formed a rough seat on which she had sat many times watching the birds and squirrels. As she walked around a thick clump of hazelnut bushes and sumacs to reach the grassy space underneath the tree, a tall man in blue serge, who had been sitting on the grass with his broad shoulders against the tree, rose and removed his hat in respectful, but embarrassed greeting.

"I hope I haven't startled you," he said, "and may I hope, also, that you would care to remember Tom Whitlow?"

"Not at all," blurted Madge. Then, in embarrassment, she hastened to add: "That is, you didn't startle me, and I'm glad to meet you again. But are you sure you know who I am?"

"You? Why, you're Madge Ingram. Pardon me—Miss Ingram."

"No—let's be Madge and Tom before we begin to be formal," said she, extending her hand. "You used to help me with my lessons, but you wouldn't talk to me. Won't you make up for lost time now by telling me of the interesting things you've been doing?"

"May I not tell you what I wanted to tell you years ago, but hadn't the courage?" His gray eyes were eager and his strong hand still held hers. "May I not tell you that it was you who first aroused in me a desire to do things? Some of the girls at school made mouths because they had to stand beside me in class, but you never did. Those girls, later, looked over my head when they saw me driving a delivery wagon, but you spoke to me even then. And may I tell you that I went away determined to achieve something that would make me worthy of even more than your friendly greetings? I worked away for a year, and then I heard you were going to marry Jim Butler,"

He turned away and dropped her hand. In a different tone, he resumed a moment later.

"I never opened another issue of the little old Plainville paper for fear I'd find the account of your wedding. I worked my way through the State university and into mining engineering. For years my work has absorbed me, and I've known nothing of what went on at Plainville, but last week in a railroad restaurant out West I happened to hear news of you. I overheard one woman tourist speaking to another as they sat at dinner. 'I begged Madge Ingram to make this trip with me,' she said, 'but she thought she must go to Plainville. I told her she'd as well have married that merchant after all, but she says there's a lot of difference between going for a vacation and for a lifetime. So she's going to swelter there the first two weeks in August.' "

"That must have been Elsie Warren," exclaimed Madge, "and what a coincidence that you should have heard her say that just as you were starting to Plainville!"

"But I wasn't starting until I heard that! It was knowing you were free that brought me here! It is because I've loved you ever since we were children that I've tried to make myself worthy of you. It's because I love you now that I'm telling you all this in such a blundering way, and it's because I'll always love you that I'm daring to ask you to go away with me to the West. Madge, could you marry a man who once drove a delivery wagon, and who loves you so much that he is making a sorry mess of telling you?"

She smiled into his face. "You might have asked me that question any time in the past five years, Tom, and I shouldn't have had the courage to refuse," she said.

B. of L. F. and E. Elects Officers

Denver, July 5.—Directors of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen were being chosen today. Selection of the next meeting place is expected to be made tomorrow.

Officers elected by the Brotherhood include:

President, W. S. Carter, re-elected.

Vice presidents, Timothy Shea, Albert Phillips, C. V. McLaughlin, P. J. McNamara, George Wark, D. B. Robertson and Arthur J. Lovell.

A. H. Hawley was re-elected general secretary and treasurer and Dr. W. B. Corey was chosen general medical examiner. John F. McNamee was re-elected editor and manager of the Brotherhood magazine.

Entertainment at Marot.

Mart, Tex., July 5.—Last evening at the Mart Auditorium, the Baptist Ladies' Aid gave a delightful entertainment, with all home talent, under the supervision of Miss Grace Lowery.

The whole program was excellent and showed Miss Lowrey to be an expert in that line. Receipts were very satisfactory.

Governor Is Confident.

Austin, Tex., July 5.—Gov. Ferguson returned tonight from Vernon and Amarillo where he made speeches in the interest of his race for re-election. He has virtually completed his campaign as far as delivering speeches is concerned. He may make one or two more speeches between now and the date of the primary but this has not derfinitely been decided upon. The governor does not believe it is necessary for him to continue on the stump.

Marlin Bonds Approved.

Austin, Tex., July 5.—The attorney general's department today approved the following bond issues of the city of Marlin, aggregating $120,000, all forty tens bearing 4½ per cent; sanitary sewers, $45,000; water works extension and improvements, $15,000; public high school building, $60,000.

Mrs. Green's Will Made Public.

Bellows Falls, Vt., July 5.—The will of Mrs. Hetty Green, long konwn as the wealthiest woman in America, leaves the bulk of her estate to her son, Col. E. R. H. Green, and her daughter, Mrs. Matthew Astor Wilks. The remainder is distributed in smaller bequests to old friends of Mrs. Green.

Anything Suits Hughes.

New York, July 5.—Charles E. Hughes today approved the proposal of his advisors to have a liberal representation of the progressive party on his campaign committee. This committee virtually will have entire charge of the campaign.

Alkali in Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfule will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Anthrax Attacks Many Persons

Austin, Tex., July 5.—A large number of cases of anthrax among humans in Texas has lead to the announcement by the state health department that unless steps are taken immediately to prevent the spread of the disease that it may be necessary to establish quarantine lines. Many cases of charbon among animals and three cases among humans have been reported from Chambers county. The state health department announces it has secured serum from the government for the treatment of the disease in humans which will be sent free where necessary to use.

Answering some of the questions asked by subscribers concerning the working of a telephone exchange.

17: "Why do I receive 'wrong number' calls?"

Of course there is occasionally a wrong connection due to the operator "plugging in" the wrong jack on the switchboard—when you look at an "operating position" and the thousands of small holes or "jacks," you will not wonder that an error of this kind is sometimes made.

But—sometimes the calling party calls the wrong number, you know. It is easy to transpose figures in one's mind, without knowing it, or to give a number wrong. Sometimes the number is given right, but misunderstood by the operator—some figures, when spoken, sound very much alike.

Use the directory when calling unless you KNOW you have the number right. Speak distinctly when giving the number, and talk INTO the transmitter, not just at it. See that the operator repeats back the number you want. Then, if you get the wrong telephone, blame the telephone company—but not until then.

Candidate Morris declares that his wife makes a splendid brand of lye soap. If Gov. Ferguson doubts this, there are plenty of water holes around, and the weather is favorable for a test.

Russian cavalry have crossed the Carpathians, and descended upon the plains of Hungary. This is the goal for which the Bear has been reaching for several months. His next move will be to cut off the supplies which have been going from this vast granary to Germany.

Senator Culberson pleads guilty to inability to endure strenuous exaction and enters a general denial to the charge of permanent disability. What a splendid opportunity for expert medical testimony!

Thiaumont has changed hands eight times, and the battle still rages around it. That kind of fighting means that somebody will be exhausted before many moons go by.

Gov. Campbell will ride a pet donkey to the court house lawn today. It was Judge Terrell who first taught the politicians to ride a mule and that mule, or where is he?

Mr. Hughes says the nation needs more than thrills in its patriotism. Quite true, but why harry Teddy in this manner after he has made such an abject apology?

New York Soldier Falls on Bayonet in Dallas

Dallas, July 5.—Harry A. Cuffler of Company C, Twelfth New York infantry, is seriously injured in a hospital here, it became known tonight, as a result of an accidentally inflicted bayonet wound received when the New York troops passed through here Monday. Cuffler was given orders to allow no one to leave the train while it stopped here. He was descending the car steps to perform his duties when he slipped and fell on his bayonet, which struck him in the chest. Physicians have not yet pronounced him out of danger.

Cuffler was officially reported "lost" when his regiment arrived at the border. The adjutant general's department at Washington was asked for information concerning the young soldier, but the inquirers were referred, it was understood, to General Funston at San Antonio, who in turn was without information.

Companions believed, according to news here, that Cuffler had mysteriously dropped from the train while in transit.

Southern Pacific Raises Wages of Section Hands

San Francisco, July 5.—The Southern Pacific company announced today an increase of 25 cents a day for all section hands excepting Mexicans and Chinese employed on its railroad lines in California, Nevada, New Mexico and Arizona. Section workers at present receive $1.75 per day. About 3,000 men are affected. The section workers are unorganized and have made no demands on the railroad.

Returning to Matamoros.

Brownsville, July 5.—The civil population of Matamoros who left their homes for the interior last week on reports that American troops were going into Mexico, are returning to the city, according to the advices received here tonight reported by Consul Johnson from the clerk left in charge of his office there. There is a general belief in Matamoros, Consul Johnson was informed, that the indicated conciliatory tone of General Carranza's answer to Secretary Lansing's note will lead to a diplomatic settlement of the differences between Mexico and the United States.

Judge George N. Denton Is Recognized as Jurist Who Hammers Down to Business

JUDGE GEORGE N. DENTON.

You'd never think for a minute that Judge Denton was a candidate for office should you have occasion to call on him on one of his busy days in court, as for instance yesterday, when a representative of the Waco Morning News visited the judge in his court room. The judge is thoroughly business, believes in looking after his duties regardless of politics, candidacies, etc. And they tell it on him around the courthouse that when he does a thing, whether it is trying a case, or looking after some other part of the county's judicial business, it is done, finished, and completed.

Judge Denton is a veteran at his present vocation, having served the public in a legal capacity for twenty-one years, the past four years serving as county judge of McLennan county. Because of the duties imposed upon him as county judge, he has been kept from making as close a canvass of the district as otherwise he would have made, but he feels that keeping up his record, of looking well after the county's businss, even up to the last minute before the election, will be appreciated by the voters of McLennan county and his district more than would a more thorough canvass.

The efficient manner in which Judge Denton has performed his duties as county judge should be given careful consideration by the people of the nineteenth judicial district. He is in every way fully qualified to discharge the duties of district judge in every detail. The conscientious manner in which he has performed the duties of his judgeship not only fits him for his new office, but entitles him to the added recognition of district judge. One of his friends put his candidacy fairly and honestly for him this week when he was heard to say "I am going to vote for Judge Denton because I know he is a man, I have seen him tried out under every condition and I know that he is true to the duties imposed upon him and thoroughly competent. I do not say this in unfairness to any of his opponents, but I believe in giving a man what he has justly won."

"I appreciate the confidence of the people very much," said Judge Denton to a News reporter, and if they see fit to honor me with this higher office, I will give them the very best service of which I am capable." In this spirit of fairness he is making the race for district judg,e trusting to the voters of the nineteenth judicial district to verify their confidence and demonstrate their faith in him as their judicial officer. Judge Denton is entitled to the highest confidence of the voters in his district which might be placed in him through the twenty-one years of public life. He has yet his first time to betray the confidence of his people and his friends.—Political advertisement.

DAILY SHORT STORY.

TARDY, BUT TRUE.

By ELSIE SEE.

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

It was well known in Plainville that Madge Ingram, who five years ago had refused to wed Jim Butler, the merchant prince of the town, was now getting a good salary as private secretary to a city lawyer. It was equally well known that the merchant's young wife of a year kept a servant and an automobile and had charge accounts at the city department stores. Every time Madge came home for a vacation, Plainville weighed the respective merits of her independence and the merchant's wife's affluence, but the shrewdest of the gossips did not suspect that a memory ante-dating her affair with Jim Butler meant more to Madge than anything that had come into her life.

One summer morning Madge alighted from the 6 o'clock train for her vacation without having told of her coming, as she preferred to surprise her parents by appearing unannounced for breakfast. She hurried up the quiet street and, slipping quietly through the yard gate, she picked a handful of dewy nasturtiums before stepping around to the side porch and knocking at the kitchen door.

"My dear child! I just felt you'd come soon!" exclaimed her mother at sight of her.

"The same dear mother—can't be surprised!" laughed Madge, as they embraced.

"But I can be glad, and I am, dearie," said the mother, with a catch in her voice. "And here's crisp bacon and fried apples and hot biscuit just as if you'd ordered your favorite summer breakfast."

"And I'm ready for the breakfast, too," said Madge, with a happy sigh. "But where's father?"

"He's in the garden," said Mrs. Ingram, and the next moment Madge was in the garden too, and in her father's arms. No sooner, though, had he begun to point out the excellence of his tomatoes and sweet corn than Mrs. Ingram summoned them to breakfast.

"What's doing today, mother? Is there a picnic?" asked Madge, after breakfast.

"Now, how did you guess that?"

"I saw Tom Jordan hauling some giant ice cream freezers and a lot of fruit up to the Maplewood pasture and, oh, I saw a distinguished-looking man in gray tweed over near the hotel. He looked like a man of affairs above and beyond Plainville picnics."

"That must have been Tom Whitlow. He's here for a visit, and he dresses like that and is staying at the hotel."

"Used to drive Butler's delivery wagon. But they say he's made something of himself. He is manager of some mines out West somewhere, and I guess he deserves credit, for his folks were poor as Job's turkey."

"But Tom was bright and gentlemanly," said Madge quickly, "and he used to help me do my arithmetic problems, although he wouldn't talk to me outside."

"I guess he's still kind o' quiet," said Mrs. Ingram, "for they wanted him to make a speech at the picnic and he made excuses that he'd rather listen than be heard."

That afternoon Madge went with her parents to the picnic, and, although she felt a certain pleasure in greeting her old friends and answering their unvarying questions about her health and her impressions of local improvements, she soon began to feel keenly that she was no longer in sympathy with their lives or they with hers. When people began to gather to listen to the speeches of the county candidates for office and of the local politician who introduced the speakers, Madge slipped away and went across the little stream and up the hill to the north where she had often gone for wild flowers.

A thick undergrowth had changed the appearance of the hillside, but she soon found what she was seeking, a big oak tree, with a gnarled limb near the ground that formed a rough seat on which she had sat many times watching the birds and squirrels. As she walked around a thick clump of hazelnut bushes and sumacs to reach the grassy space underneath the tree, a tall man in blue serge, who had been sitting on the grass with his broad shoulders against the tree, rose and removed his hat in respectful, but embarrassed greeting.

"I hope I haven't startled you," he said, "and may I hope, also, that you would care to remember Tom Whitlow?"

"Not at all," blurted Madge. Then, in embarrassment, she hastened to add: "That is, you didn't startle me, and I'm glad to meet you again. But are you sure you know who I am?"

"No—let's be Madge and Tom before we begin to be formal," said she, extending her hand. "You used to help me with my lessons, but you wouldn't talk to me. Won't you make up for lost time now by telling me of the interesting things you've been doing?"

"May I not tell you what I wanted to tell you years ago, but hadn't the courage?" His gray eyes were eager and his strong hand still held hers. "May I not tell you that it was you who first aroused in me a desire to do things? Some of the girls at school made mouths because they had to stand beside me in class, but you never did. Those girls, later, looked over my head when they saw me driving a delivery wagon, but you spoke to me even then. And may I tell you that I went away determined to achieve something that would make me worthy of even more than your friendly greetings? I worked away for a year, and then I heard you were going to marry Jim Butler,"

He turned away and dropped her hand. In a different tone, he resumed a moment later.

"I never opened another issue of the little old Plainville paper for fear I'd find the account of your wedding. I worked my way through the State university and into mining engineering. For years my work has absorbed me, and I've known nothing of what went on at Plainville, but last week in a railroad restaurant out West I happened to hear news of you. I overheard one woman tourist speaking to another as they sat at dinner. 'I begged Madge Ingram to make this trip with me,' she said, 'but she thought she must go to Plainville. I told her she'd as well have married that merchant after all, but she says there's a lot of difference between going for a vacation and for a lifetime. So she's going to swelter there the first two weeks in August.' "

"That must have been Elsie Warren," exclaimed Madge, "and what a coincidence that you should have heard her say that just as you were starting to Plainville!"

"But I wasn't starting until I heard that! It was knowing you were free that brought me here! It is because I've loved you ever since we were children that I've tried to make myself worthy of you. It's because I love you now that I'm telling you all this in such a blundering way, and it's because I'll always love you that I'm daring to ask you to go away with me to the West. Madge, could you marry a man who once drove a delivery wagon, and who loves you so much that he is making a sorry mess of telling you?"

She smiled into his face. "You might have asked me that question any time in the past five years, Tom, and 'I shouldn't have had the courage to refuse," she said.

Entertainment at Marot.

Mart, Tex., July 5.—Last evening at the Mart Auditorium, the Baptist Ladies' Aid gave a delightful entertainment, with all home talent, under the supervision of Miss Grace Lowery.

The whole program was excellent and showed Miss Lowrey to be an expert in that line. Receipts were very satisfactory.

Governor Is Confident.

Austin, Tex., July 5.—Gov. Ferguson returned tonight from Vernon and Amarillo where he made speeches in the interest of his race for re-election. He has virtually completed his campaign as far as delivering speeches is concerned. He may make one or two more speeches between now and the date of the primary but this has not derfinitely been decided upon. The governor does not believe it is necessary for him to continue on the stump.

Marlin Bonds Approved.

Austin, Tex., July 5.—The attorney general's department today approved the following bond issues of the city of Marlin, aggregating $120,000, all forty tens bearing 4½ per cent; sanitary sewers, $45,000; water works extension and improvements, $15,000; public high school building, $60,000.

Mrs. Green's Will Made Public.

Bellows Falls, Vt., July 5.—The will of Mrs. Hetty Green, long konwn as the wealthiest woman in America, leaves the bulk of her estate to her son, Col. E. R. H. Green, and her daughter, Mrs. Matthew Astor Wilks. The remainder is distributed in smaller bequests to old friends of Mrs. Green.

Anything Suits Hughes.

New York, July 5.—Charles E. Hughes today approved the proposal of his advisors to have a liberal representation of the progressive party on his campaign committee. This committee virtually will have entire charge of the campaign.

Alkali in Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfule will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Anthrax Attacks Many Persons

Austin, Tex., July 5.—A large number of cases of anthrax among humans in Texas has lead to the announcement by the state health department that unless steps are taken immediately to prevent the spread of the disease that it may be necessary to establish quarantine lines. Many cases of charbon among animals and three cases among humans have been reported from Chambers county. The state health department announces it has secured serum from the government for the treatment of the disease in humans which will be sent free where necessary to use.

Answering some of the questions asked by subscribers concerning the working of a telephone exchange.

17: "Why do I receive 'wrong number' calls?"

Of course there is occasionally a wrong connection due to the operator "plugging in" the wrong jack on the switchboard—when you look at an "operating position" and the thousands of small holes or "jacks," you will not wonder that an error of this kind is sometimes made.

But—sometimes the calling party calls the wrong number, you know. It is easy to transpose figures in one's mind, without knowing it, or to give a number wrong. Sometimes the number is given right, but misunderstood by the operator—some figures, when spoken, sound very much alike.

Use the directory when calling unless you KNOW you have the number right. Speak distinctly when giving the number, and talk INTO the transmitter, not just at it. See that the operator repeats back the number you want. Then, if you get the wrong telephone, blame the telephone company—but not until then.

REPUBLICANS WOULD DEFER SHIP BILL

Two or Three Democratic Senators Against Administration Measure.

Washington, July 5.—A proposal from republican senators that if action on the government shipping bill were deferred until the next session of congress they would join with the majority in an agreement setting a date for a vote, found little response tonight when senate democrats met in caucus. Although no action was taken, a majority of the senators present vigorously opposed the suggestion and insisted that the bill must be passed to a vote, even if it should hold congress in session all summer.

The republican proposal, it was declared, was coupled with a strong intimation that an effort to press the bill at this session would be met with persistent opposition and also with dilatory tactics on other measures. That this attitude was resented was made plain at the outset of the caucus by Senators Simmons, Stone, Williams and other democratic leaders. After much discussion, however, it was decided to adjourn until Friday night, so that the commerce committee might have an opportunity to go over the bill as passed by the house. Republican senators have called a conference for tomorrow, the original purpose having been to receive word of action by the democrats tonight.

Senators Simmons and Stone voiced the views of the administration in the caucus, emphasizing the urgent necessity for action at this session on shipping legislation. Senator Stone cited the recent conference in Paris between representatives of allied nations for the purpose of drawing up a trade agreement, which he declared would result in a united effort to re-capture trade that had been gained by the United States during the war. To meet this, he urged the necessity of a revived American merchant marine.

Two or three democratic senators, among them Bankhead and Clarke of Arkansas, are opposed to the shipping bill in its present form, particularly the government ownership and operation provision, and it is probable that some amendments may be agreed on by the commerce commission when it meets tomorrow.

Woman Found Dead in Salem Auto

Salem, Mass., July 5.—Attracted by the mysterious movement of an automobile which had sped up and down Boston street for half an hour early today, Policeman Dennis Healy stopped the car and discovered in it the body of Miss Margaret Ward of Peabody. Six men who were in the car, one of whom was former State Representative Charles R. O'Connell of Peabody, were arrested. At police headquarters a charge of being accessories to illegal medical practices was placed against the men.

In addition to the former representave they include his brother, James O'Connell, of Lynn; George A. Bardwell, a member of the crew of the United States cruiser Kearsarge; Daniel J. Dineen and Wm. D. Conlin of Salem, and Thomas J. Sexton of Peabody, who had driven the car.

According to the police Miss Ward died after having been placed in the machine. She was 26 years old and recently had been employed in a Peabody store.

Dr. John A. Shannahan of Peabody was arrested tonight and held under bail of $3,000. Three women also were detained in Boston.

CONTROL OF SENATE BIG CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Washington, July 5.—Vance McCormick, chairman of the democratic national committee, discussed with democratic senators the part the committee will take in the fight to retain control of the senate. Senator Saulsbury of Delaware was selected tentatively to take charge of that feature of the campaign, and it was said tonight that he might be made head of a bureau under Mr. McCormick rather than chairman of a senatorial committee, independent of the national committee.

Senator Walsh of Montana and possibly other senators are expected to be selected by Mr. McCormick as members of the campaign committee so that it will have their advance particularly regarding the senatorial fight.

The plans being perfected by democratic leaders are largely precedent, because this will be the first presidential campaign in which one-third of the membership of the senate is up for election. In other presidential years when senators were elected by state legislators, senatorial campaigns have been left to the congressional committee always dominated by the house but containing on its membership list a few senators. Democratic senators believe the congressional committee now should be left free to devote all its energies to the election of members of the house.

Shooting Rags.

When you discard your old cotton garments you might be the cause of the death of a German soldier in the trenches in Europe. The allies are actually using these with which to discharge their guns. This is brought out in the reports that the munitions makers of America are buying up all sorts of cotton rags to be used in the manufacture of gun cotton. One report has it that the Du Pont company stationed men in various parts of the country to get options on large quantities of stock. The buying was so heavy as to send the prices of cotton rags skyward. It is about time for the humble "ole clothes" man in order to boost his business to join the ranks of the advocates of preparedness and stimulate the manufacture of gun cotton and consequently the use of cotton rags.

CAVALRY PATROL NARROWLY ESCAPES MEXICAN AMBUSH

Field Headquarters, Colonia Dublan, Chihauhua, July 2.—By Motor Courier to Columbus, N. M., July 5.—Three hundred Carranzista cavalrymen attempted to ambush a scouting patrol of twenty American cavalrymen north of Guerrero recently, and only by skillful maneuvering did the American commander save his detachment, it was learned here today. The incident occurred shortly after General Trevino notified General Pershing he would regard any movement of American troops other than northward as hostile.

Teh soldiers, a detachment of the Seventh cavalry under Lieutenant Horace W. Hickim, were on a scoutnig patrol in search of bandits believed to have had their rendezvous in a zinc mine about thirty miles from the American base. Not finding any bandits, they started back and had turned into the main road, the enrtnace to a canyon, when three Mexicans half a mile to the south opened fire. Immediately the troopers replied and the Mexicans ran, disappearing over the top of a ridge. Lieutenant Hickim did not follow, realizing that the terrain in that direction formed a natural trap and that the territory to the south was not under patrol.

The Americans turned north, trotting into the canyon. As they went down the hill a trooper galloped up from the rear, reporting that about 300 armed and mounted Mexicans had dashed over the ridge where the three Mexicans fled and were pursuing the Americans.

Hickim started for a hill further up the canyon, there to make a stand if too hard pressed. His half troop went forward at a gallop and the American horses, wearied by the long march they already had made, steadily lost ground to the pursuing column.

When the Carrancistas seemed about to overtake his men, Lieutenant Hickim led them off the road into a rock-walled depression about ten feet deep, where a huge oak hid them from view. Within 300 yards the Mexicans rode past without discovering the hidden Americans. Then the latter at a leisurely pace followed their late pursuers until the hill was reached. Here they drew up along the crest of the canyon, with deep ravines protecting each flank. But when the Carrancistas came back down the canyon road they passed the foot of the hill without a hostile move of any sort against the Americans, whom they could see plainly a few hundred yards above.

The cavalrymen believe that word of their proximity had been taken to the Carrancistas by the Mexican caretaker of he mine, whom they found equipped with an excellent pair of field glasses.

REPUBLICANS WOULD DEFER SHIP BILL

Two or Three Democratic Senators Against Administration Measure.

Washington, July 5.—A proposal from republican senators that if action on the government shipping bill were deferred until the next session of congress they would join with the majority in an agreement setting a date for a vote, found little response tonight when senate democrats met in caucus. Although no action was taken, a majority of the senators present vigorously opposed the suggestion and insisted that the bill must be passed to a vote, even if it should hold congress in session all summer.

The republican proposal, it was declared, was coupled with a strong intimation that an effort to press the bill at this session would be met with persistent opposition and also with dilatory tactics on other measures. That this attitude was resented was made plain at the outset of the caucus by Senators Simmons, Stone, Williams and other democratic leaders. After much discussion, however, it was decided to adjourn until Friday night, so that the commerce committee might have an opportunity to go over the bill as passed by the house. Republican senators have called a conference for tomorrow, the original purpose having been to receive word of action by the democrats tonight.

Senators Simmons and Stone voiced the views of the administration in the caucus, emphasizing the urgent necessity for action at this session on shipping legislation. Senator Stone cited the recent conference in Paris between representatives of allied nations for the purpose of drawing up a trade agreement, which he declared would result in a united effort to re-capture trade that had been gained by the United States during the war. To meet this, he urged the necessity of a revived American merchant marine.

Two or three democratic senators, among them Bankhead and Clarke of Arkansas, are opposed to the shipping bill in its present form, particularly the government ownership and operation provision, and it is probable that some amendments may be agreed on by the commerce commission when it meets tomorrow.

Woman Found Dead in Salem Auto

Salem, Mass., July 5.—Attracted by the mysterious movement of an automobile which had sped up and down Boston street for half an hour early today, Policeman Dennis Healy stopped the car and discovered in it the body of Miss Margaret Ward of Peabody. Six men who were in the car, one of whom was former State Representative Charles R. O'Connell of Peabody, were arrested. At police headquarters a charge of being accessories to illegal medical practices was placed against the men.

In addition to the former representave they include his brother, James O'Connell, of Lynn; George A. Bardwell, a member of the crew of the United States cruiser Kearsarge; Daniel J. Dineen and Wm. D. Conlin of Salem, and Thomas J. Sexton of Peabody, who had driven the car.

According to the police Miss Ward died after having been placed in the machine. She was 26 years old and recently had been employed in a Peabody store.

Dr. John A. Shannahan of Peabody was arrested tonight and held under bail of $3,000. Three women also were detained in Boston.

CONTROL OF SENATE BIG CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Washington, July 5.—Vance McCormick, chairman of the democratic national committee, discussed with democratic senators the part the committee will take in the fight to retain control of the senate. Senator Saulsbury of Delaware was selected tentatively to take charge of that feature of the campaign, and it was said tonight that he might be made head of a bureau under Mr. McCormick rather than chairman of a senatorial committee, independent of the national committee.

Senator Walsh of Montana and possibly other senators are expected to be selected by Mr. McCormick as members of the campaign committee so that it will have their advance particularly regarding the senatorial fight.

The plans being perfected by democratic leaders are largely precedent, because this will be the first presidential campaign in which one-third of the membership of the senate is up for election. In other presidential years when senators were elected by state legislators, senatorial campaigns have been left to the congressional committee always dominated by the house but containing on its membership list a few senators. Democratic senators believe the congressional committee now should be left free to devote all its energies to the election of members of the house.

Shooting Rags.

When you discard your old cotton garments you might be the cause of the death of a German soldier in the trenches in Europe. The allies are actually using these with which to discharge their guns. This is brought out in the reports that the munitions makers of America are buying up all sorts of cotton rags to be used in the manufacture of gun cotton. One report has it that the Du Pont company stationed men in various parts of the country to get options on large quantities of stock. The buying was so heavy as to send the prices of cotton rags skyward. It is about time for the humble "ole clothes" man in order to boost his business to join the ranks of the advocates of preparedness and stimulate the manufacture of gun cotton and consequently the use of cotton rags.

CAVALRY PATROL NARROWLY ESCAPES MEXICAN AMBUSH

Field Headquarters, Colonia Dublan, Chihauhua, July 2.—By Motor Courier to Columbus, N. M., July 5.—Three hundred Carranzista cavalrymen attempted to ambush a scouting patrol of twenty American cavalrymen north of Guerrero recently, and only by skillful maneuvering did the American commander save his detachment, it was learned here today. The incident occurred shortly after General Trevino notified General Pershing he would regard any movement of American troops other than northward as hostile.

Teh soldiers, a detachment of the Seventh cavalry under Lieutenant Horace W. Hickim, were on a scoutnig patrol in search of bandits believed to have had their rendezvous in a zinc mine about thirty miles from the American base. Not finding any bandits, they started back and had turned into the main road, the enrtnace to a canyon, when three Mexicans half a mile to the south opened fire. Immediately the troopers replied and the Mexicans ran, disappearing over the top of a ridge. Lieutenant Hickim did not follow, realizing that the terrain in that direction formed a natural trap and that the territory to the south was not under patrol.

The Americans turned north, trotting into the canyon. As they went down the hill a trooper galloped up from the rear, reporting that about 300 armed and mounted Mexicans had dashed over the ridge where the three Mexicans fled and were pursuing the Americans.

Hickim started for a hill further up the canyon, there to make a stand if too hard pressed. His half troop went forward at a gallop and the American horses, wearied by the long march they already had made, steadily lost ground to the pursuing column.

When the Carrancistas seemed about to overtake his men, Lieutenant Hickim led them off the road into a rock-walled depression about ten feet deep, where a huge oak hid them from view. Within 300 yards the Mexicans rode past without discovering the hidden Americans. Then the latter at a leisurely pace followed their late pursuers until the hill was reached. Here they drew up along the crest of the canyon, with deep ravines protecting each flank. But when the Carrancistas came back down the canyon road they passed the foot of the hill without a hostile move of any sort against the Americans, whom they could see plainly a few hundred yards above.

The cavalrymen believe that word of their proximity had been taken to the Carrancistas by the Mexican caretaker of he mine, whom they found equipped with an excellent pair of field glasses.

Italians Report Gains.

Rome, July 5.—New successes have been won by the Italians in their offensive in the Trentino, the war office announced today. They have occupied the summit of Monte Cornor, northwest of the Pasubio, and captured the crest of Monte Sellugio.

Against Liquor Ads.

Washington, July 5.—Senator Smith of Georgia introduced a bill to prohibit sending of newspapers containing liquor advertisements through the mails into states which have laws against suc hadvertising. The bill embodies the same features as were in Senator Jones' proposed amendment to the postoffice bill, ruled out on a point of order.

Edgar Witt Next County Judge

Is the General Prediction — Farmers, Business Men and Substantial Citizens Generally Over the County Support Him Loyally for Good Business Reasons.

SOME OF THE REASONS

1. He has had thorough educational training.
2. His personal character and reputation for honesty and fair dealings are unquestioned.
3. He is 39 years of age, and has practiced law actively and successfully for many years.
4. He has had active and varied business experience. He has represented large business interests and has had to do with large and varied business affairs. The office of County Judge has grown in McLennan county to be more of a business office than a judicial office. The man who holds it should be one who has had such experience as will enable him to give wise counsel to the Commissioners' Court.
5. He has been active and liberal in promoting public enterprices.
6. He served faithfully and efficiently as a member of the Legislature. He was always on the job and gave real thought to legislation for the general good. His legal ability and ripe judgment were in demand by various important committees. Seldom is it possible to get the service of a man of affairs in the Legislature. It is a real sacrifice for such a man to leave his business and render the service. Such service deserves promotion.
7. He is a just man. His best friends are those who have had business dealings with him. Surely an unbiased, impartial man is the sort to sit as judge and pass on the controversies arising between man and man.
8. He will be under obligation to no man or set of men except to do the right thing by every man—every man and every question is entitled to be treated fairly and justly, none is entitled to more.
9. He is approachable—and always courteous and obliging.
10. He has started up the politcial ladder, and it seems only fair that he should not be thrown down for another unless that other is either better qualified or older and more experienced. Is there a candidate who can urge claim to your vote on these grounds?

He respectfully solicits your support.

Improvement Notes

The construction of nice residences in the city, as well as business houses, goes right on, and the record in this direction is one which is very encouraging.

One of the latest permits to be issued by Building Inspector S. P. Herbert is for a beautiful new residence to be erected by A. I. Cammack at 2218 Gorman street, contiguous to the handsome home recently sold by Mr. Cammack to Dr. H. R. Dudgeon. The new residence will be a two-story one, of latest architectural design, and will cost $5,000.

Good progress is being made by Contractor J. E. Johnson on the new ward school building at Twenty-fifth and Bosque boulevard. The foundations are clear above the ground and ere long the building will be showing up nicely.

SMALL CROWD SEES SECOND DAY'S RACES

Mymore Runs Away With Trot—Running Events Called Off—Rock Boy Beats Pedro.

Despite the fact that the races at Cotton Palace Park on the Fourth of July were classy and exciting, only a mere handful turned out yesterday to see the concluding program of the meet. As the gate admissions did not begin to pay the expenses for the day, the two running races scheduled were called off and an alleged match race between Rock Boy and Pedro substituted.

The 2:25 pace resulted in three heats, watching which was worth anybody's four bits. The three times hung up were 2:17, 2:16¼ and 2:17¾, which is going some for horses in the 2:25 class.

Lady Cochran took the lead early in the first heat and was able to retain it, although both Al Fletcher and Nell Wood Grattan made desperate attempts to go by. David L. Peay seemed to have a world of speed, but broke badly whenever extended. Texas Lad and Lusette also were in the race.

Again in the second heat, Lady Cochran took the lead, with Al Fletcher close behind, David L. Peay overhauling them in the back stretch, only to break. Texas Lad challenged the leaders unsuccessfully but Nell Wood Grattan kept on cutting down the lead all the way and passed the others in the stretch, forcing Lady Cochran to be contented with second and Al Fletcher with third.

David L. Peay got off to a good start in the final heat, with Lady Cochran close behind and Nell Wood Grattan taking the dust away in the rear. At the half the race was between Peay and Grattan and the latter pulled away in the back stretch and won under restraint.

There were three entries in the 2:25 trot, but two of them might as well have been scratched. Mymore won all three heats in easy manner, Frank Airy and Jack Hayes fighting it out for second place in each heat. A spectator in the grandstand suggested that it might be a race if an automobile were entered against Mymore, but the judges evidently hadn't thought of that, so the race developed into how far in front Mymore would be and which of the others would finish next.

Old Pedro was probably wondering last night—that is, if horses wonder—for Rock Boy beat him in a quarter-mile matched race. Rock Boy is not a bad young horse, not by any means, but Pedro should beat him at any dinstance from ten feet to a thousand miles.

Prof. H. Trantham Will Speak This Evening at Baylor

Prof. H. Trantham of Baylor will give a lecture this evening on England and Oxford. The lecture, which will begin at 8:15, will be given on the campus if the weather is favorable, otherwise in Carroll chapel. Professor Trantham, who is considered a very delightful speaker by those who have heard him, spent three years in Oxford as a Rhodes scholar and is very well qualified to speak concerning this quaint and interesting university. Oxford is one of the oldest of European colleges and has an interesting history, many beautiful buildings and one of the greatest libraries in existence. A number of stereopticon views have been obtained, with which the lecture will be illustrated. These show the various colleges, the beautiful walks, and a few scenes in London which are of unusual interest. Friends from the city are urged to come.

Nash, Robinson & Co. Are Remodeling Their Offices

The supports are being put in place in the front of the Nash, Robinson & Co. building, Tenth and Austin streets, for the demolishing of the present wall and the putting in of the new front, which, it is stated, will make of this one of the prettiest and most modern places of the kind in Central Texas.

The main offices of the company have recently been moved from the front of the building to the rear and the entire front of the structure will be devoted to display of the shelf hardware, wall paper, paint and the like. Everything will be put under glass and the plans call for a very attractive display room. A rest room is provided for in the plans.

SANGER LAWN FETE FOR EMPLOYES VERY PLEASING FUNCTION

Over three hundred employes of Sanger Brothers were the guests of Asher S. Sanger, manager of the great department store, at his home at 1806 Washington street, last evening. The large lawn of the Sanger home was resplendent with myriads of electric lights and the decorations combined to make it a veritable fairyland. The Boy Scout band under Prof. Chas. Parker, furnished music for the evening along with a program of special numbers, and refreshments were served. Aside from the appeal of the open air program, the cordial spirit existing between employes and employers was declared to be very pleasing to both. The entertainment came as a courtesy to the employes, as a token of the esteem in which they were held and as a compliment to their loyalty.

ASHER SANGER.

Mr. Sanger was host to the more than three hundred employes in gladsome lawn fete at his home on Washington street. The affair proved a most enjoyable evening and showed a remarkable spirit of good feeling that exists in the Sanger store.

Among the special features were a vocal solo from Mrs. P. Jack Sanger, accompanied by Miss Amelia Lewine; song and dance offerings from the Hoffmannettes, accompanied by Miss Dana Clark; violin selections by Mrs. Alex Sanger, accompanied by Miss Lewine; vocal solo by Mrs. Joseph Wren and a piano offering by Miss Lewine.

Mr. Sanger presided over the festivities of the evening and was master of ceremonies at a delightful refreshment course. Dancing on the velvety grass was attempted and all the other gay pastimes of a lawn fete were levied on for the evening's pleasure. The event will go down in the history of the Sanger store.

PIMPLY TETTER ON HANDS AND FEET

Would Itch and Burn So Badly Could Not Sleep. Dared Not Put Hands in Water. Ashamed of Them.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I was troubled with tetter. It first began by very small bumps or pimples coming on my hands and feet. Large pimples would form and become awfully sore. I could not sleep at night the pimples would itch and burn so badly. I dared not put my hands in water for they would burn and itch so. I was ashamed to let any one see my hands they were so rough and sore, and I could not wear any clothing on the affected parts.

"I finally saw a Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement and I got a large sized box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Soap and in two months my hands and feet were perfectly healed." (Signed) J. B. Dickerson, Brookhaven, Miss., July 8, 1915.

CAMPBELL TO SPEAK TONIGHT ON LAWN OF COUNTY COURT HOUSE

True to a solemn pledge on the fateful night of the public servants' banquet last fall, Thomas Mitchell Campbell of Palestine, former governor and candidate for the United States senate, is scheduled to ride his white donkey from his hotel to the courthouse lawn this evening, where he will deliver an address on the issues of the campaign. The giving of the donkey to the ex-governor was the climax to an evening of brilliant grilling between prominent public men of Texas at the dinner given by the Young Men's Business league during the Cotton Palace. The address will begin this evening at 8 o'clock and a band will be present to enliven the occasion.

Dr. W. M. Brumby, state health officer during the Campbell administration, will introduce the speaker. Arrangements have been made by the McLennan County Campbell club, of which H. L. Smyer of Mart is the president.

Former Waco Woman Died in Asheville

Ethel Bolton Savely, beloved wife of Harvey E. Savely, of Washington, D. C., died in Asheville, N. C., Friday night, June 23, 1916, at 10:30 o'clock, after a long illness.

Mrs. Savely was born February 22, 1890, in Pineville, La. When she was six years of age her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bolton, moved to Lake Charles, La., where her mother passed away.

Most of Mrs. Savely's life was spent in Waco, where, at an early age, she became a member of the First Baptist church. She was educated in the literary and music departments of the Waco schools and Baylor university. On November 29, 1911, she was married to Harvey E. Savely, of Washington, D. C. Mr. Savely is general field agent in the farm demonstration work for five southern states.

About fourteen months ago Mrs. Savely was brought to San Antonio for her health, and hoping to obtain better results her husband took her to Asheville, N. C., six weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bolton and daughters arrived Friday morning in Asheville to spend the summer with Mrs. Savely, hoping to make happy and contented her last months, never dreaming that the end was so near. Very suddenly Friday night Mrs. Savely passed peacefully away.

Mrs. Savely leaves, besides her husband, parents, four sisters and one brother, a lovely little three-year-old son, Harvey Jr. The remains were placed temporarily in a receiving vault in Asheville until definite plans for removal are decided upon. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Many lovely flowers surrounded the casket.

Sweet memories of this bright young life will abide with friends and loved ones—a fragrance lingering through passing years.

New York Soldiers Given Swim at "Y"

More than seventy-five members of Troop H, First New York cavalry, were given free swims at the Young Men's Christian association yesterday evening. The cavalrymen stopped in the city for more than an hour to water their horses. Practically every man in the troop was either a college man or a young business man. They expressed the appreciation of the fine spirit shown them in Waco and declared that they had been treated like 'princes" all along the route, most of them claiming Rochester, New York, as their home town.

Old Glory With Search Light Is Pretty Sight

There have been flags and flags displayed in Waco during the past few days but what is counted one of the prettiest sights of all is the municipal flag on the city hall at nights. The flag is not an extra large one, but the effect of the concealed searchlights on its folds gives a most appealing appearance. The illumination makes the flag look like finely spun silk glistening in a moonlight sheen.

Officers Catch Boy Thief

Detective Craven and Assistant Probation Officer Ludwick caught a young white boy yesterday charged with the theft of a bicyce, a small toy wagon and other petty thefts. The bicycle was found yesterday, after a futile search, under the deserted church near Ninth and Austin on the confession of the boy. The wagon is one of the kind which resembles a real farm wagon and was said to have been stolen last year from a local hardware store.

APPEALS TO 20,000 DENTISTS.

Each Asked to Fix Mouth of One Applicant for Enlistment.

The preparedness league of American dentists, with headquarters in Buffalo, has opened a registration bureau in the hope of enrolling 20,000 dentists who will eac hone agree to prepare, free of charge, the mouth of at least one applicant to meet the requirements for enlistment in the army, navy or marine corps, and subject to ruch rules as shall protect them against imposition.

The standard of enlistment for the United States marine corps requires the applicant to have at least twenty sound teeth, with four opposed molars and four opposed incisors. Properly filled teeth are counted as sound, and that many men now rejected for defective teeth will be saved to the "first line of defense" by the patriotic members of the Dentists' Preparedness League, is the belief of league officials.—Columbus (O.) Dispatch.

Tom L. McCullough Favors Land Banks

Would Urge a System of Rural Credits—Favors Safeguarding Our Farming Interests and Extending Same to the Fullest Extent—A Strong Navy Is Necessary for Protection—McCullough Would Be Safe Representative of the People and His Candidacy Is Gaining Votes Daily.

Judge Tom L. McCullough, candidate for Congress to succeed R. L. Henry in the Eleventh Congressional District, composed of Bell, Falls, McLennan, Coryell and Hamilton counties, has filled many appointments since his opening speech at Mooreville, Falls county, his birthplace.

Those who have heard his masterly way of presenting his splendid platform of principles have become strongly united to him in bonds of friendship and high regard. "His statesmanship is unquestioned," said an admiring friend the other day, "and as for ability to have a strong part in constructive legislation, no one has any doubt. He has enunciated a platform that is strong, forceful and appealing.

Judge McCullough has apprised the people of the policies he will pursue if elected, these principles of his platform have been plainly enunciated with vigor and show declarations in line with democracy and true Americanism.

Judge McCullough recently said: "The European wars have changed the political, economic, commercial and financial centers and systems of the world. It has brought America face to face with a new duty and a new destiny and we must prepare for it. American enterprise is equal to the task if American statesmanship is broad enough to think in world thoughts. In our national aims and aspirations we must be alive to our opportunities. We must get ready to carry our commerce to the markets of the world. We must not depend on foreign ships.

All possible assistance must be rendered in building this nation to its fullest possible power. We must take advantage of every rich opportunity offered.

We must remember that agriculture is one of the main supports of our wonderful nation, rich in possibilities beyond our dreams, and I therefore favor land banks and a system of handling land securities on long time, with power to come to the help of men in acquiring, improving and operating farms. I favor a system of rural credits, adaptable to local and special industries organized and correlated by the federal government.

In safeguarding our farming interests and extending same to the fullest extent, also ever watchful that we may do those things that are best calculated to promote our industries, we must also be alert as to our ability to successfully defend ourselves in any war emergency. I favor a strong navy, necessarily so, to protect our coasts upon the oceans, the gulf and the Panama Canal. I favor a standing army of sufficient strength to give us every assurance of safety, but not burdensome, this to be augmented by a citizen soldiery. By the latter term I mean a large number of our young men trained and disciplined, who are not actually in the regular army. I believe this could be accomplished by an increase and perfecting of the state militia, through federal control, by agreement with the state, and also believe that if a plan can be worked out by which United States army officers could be detailed to our schools, to instruct and drill young boys and men, that not only would the United States be ready upon emergency with a great many young men who had received military instruction, but the boys would have been greatly benefited by a valuable physical training and discipline."

As Judge McCullough spoke a touch of earnestness and appeal went out that signified his zeal in these matters that will be backed to the fullest when he enters Congress from the Eleventh District of Texas.

Judge McCullough has traveled extensively, studied hard and read to that extent that he is thoroughly versed in world affairs, and in all things will he be a safe representative of the people in Washington.

Judge McCullough is making telling gains wherever he speaks and though he has conducted a campaign that has been strenuous, he is as strong and vigorous as can be and with the many speaking dates ahead, he assured the News that he was intent on letting every voter possible hear him on the living issues of the day.

HOFFMANN PLEASED WITH PRYOR'S BAND

Aside from enjoying the myriads of attractions at the convention of the Associated Ad Clubs of the World at Philadelphia, W. H. Hoffmann, representative of the Young Men's Business league, who returned yesterday afternoon, also took especial notice of possible Cotton Palace features.

Mr. Hoffmann heard the great Pryor's band play at Ashbury Park, New Jersey, and he was captivated by the music. He said that band was thought of very highly by the muhic loving easterners and that Mr. Pryor personally was a very pleasing man.

The Cotton Palace directors have under consideration the securing of this world famous band and it was with this possibility in mind that Mr. Hoffmann went to hear the musicians. It is claimed that this will be one of the greatest things the Palace has ever done in the way of giving the people high class entertainment, should the directors be able to secure the band.

Mr. Hoffmann also heard the Victor Herbert orchestra at Philadelphia and the Vessela band at Atlantic City. He visited Charlaroi, Penn., to see the Con Kennedy shows and declared that this was one of the cleanest and most appealing carnival companies that he had seen.

One of the striking things about the east just now is the excitement caused by the mobilization of the troops on the border, said Mr. Hoffman. Thousands of young business men have left for the scene of possible action and their moving has greatly excited the country. He spoke of the number of American flags that are everywhere to be seen in the east.

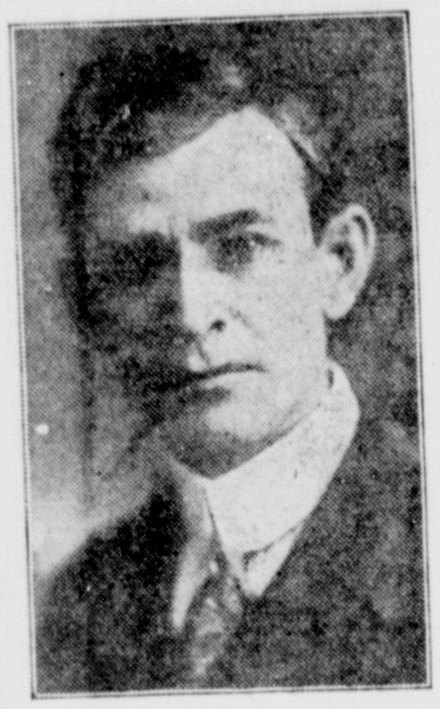
Edgar Witt Next County Judge

Is the General Prediction — Farmers, Business Men and Substantial Citizens Generally Over the County Support Him Loyally for Good Business Reasons.



SOME OF THE REASONS

1. He has had thorough educational training.
2. His personal character and reputation for honesty and fair dealings are unquestioned.
3. He is 39 years of age, and has practiced law actively and successfully for many years.
4. He has had active and varied business experience. He has represented large business interests and has had to do with large and varied business affairs. The office of County Judge has grown in McLennan county to be more of a business office than a judicial office. The man who holds it should be one who has had such experience as will enable him to give wise counsel to the Commissioners' Court.
5. He has been active and liberal in promoting public enterprices.
6. He served faithfully and efficiently as a member of the Legislature. He was always on the job and gave real thought to legislation for the general good. His legal ability and ripe judgment were in demand by various important committees. Seldom is it possible to get the service of a man of affairs in the Legislature. It is a real sacrifice for such a man to leave his business and render the service. Such service deserves promotion.
7. He is a just man. His best friends are those who have had business dealings with him. Surely an unbiased, impartial man is the sort to sit as judge and pass on the controversies arising between man and man.
8. He will be under obligation to no man or set of men except to do the right thing by every man—every man and every question is entitled to be treated fairly and justly, none is entitled to more.
9. He is approachable—and always courteous and obliging.
10. He has started up the politcial ladder, and it seems only fair that he should not be thrown down for another unless that other is either better qualified or older and more experienced. Is there a candidate who can urge claim to your vote on these grounds?

He respectfully solicits your support.

Improvement Notes

The construction of nice residences in the city, as well as business houses, goes right on, and the record in this direction is one which is very encouraging.

One of the latest permits to be issued by Building Inspector S. P. Herbert is for a beautiful new residence to be erected by A. I. Cammack at 2218 Gorman street, contiguous to the handsome home recently sold by Mr. Cammack to Dr. H. R. Dudgeon. The new residence will be a two-story one, of latest architectural design, and will cost $5,000.

Good progress is being made by Contractor J. E. Johnson on the new ward school building at Twenty-fifth and Bosque boulevard. The foundations are clear above the ground and ere long the building will be showing up nicely.

THE LAST KISS FROM PAPA

Just before the trains pull out of the various railroad terminals loaded with guardsmen there is a scene of wild confusion, a kissing, a hugging, and shaking of hands and bidding of God-speed that brings tears to the eyes of even the most disinterested.

SMALL CROWD SEES SECOND DAY'S RACES

Despite the fact that the races at Cotton Palace Park on the Fourth of July were classy and exciting, only a mere handful turned out yesterday to see the concluding program of the meet. As the gate admissions did not begin to pay the expenses for the day, the two running races scheduled were called off and an alleged match race between Rock Boy and Pedro substituted.

The 2:25 pace resulted in three heats, watching which was worth anybody's four bits. The three times hung up were 2:17, 2:16¼ and 2:17¾, which is going some for horses in the 2:25 class.

Lady Cochran took the lead early in the first heat and was able to retain it, although both Al Fletcher and Nell Wood Grattan made desperate attempts to go by. David L. Peay seemed to have a world of speed, but broke badly whenever extended. Texas Lad and Lusette also were in the race.

Again in the second heat, Lady Cochran took the lead, with Al Fletcher close behind, David L. Peay overhauling them in the back stretch, only to break. Texas Lad challenged the leaders unsuccessfully but Nell Wood Grattan kept on cutting down the lead all the way and passed the others in the stretch, forcing Lady Cochran to be contented with second and Al Fletcher with third.

David L. Peay got off to a good start in the final heat, with Lady Cochran close behind and Nell Wood Grattan taking the dust away in the rear. At the half the race was between Peay and Grattan and the latter pulled away in the back stretch and won under restraint.

There were three entries in the 2:25 trot, but two of them might as well have been scratched. Mymore won all three heats in easy manner, Frank Airy and Jack Hayes fighting it out for second place in each heat. A spectator in the grandstand suggested that it might be a race if an automobile were entered against Mymore, but the judges evidently hadn't thought of that, so the race developed into how far in front Mymore would be and which of the others would finish next.

Old Pedro was probably wondering last night—that is, if horses wonder—for Rock Boy beat him in a quarter-mile matched race. Rock Boy is not a bad young horse, not by any means, but Pedro should beat him at any dinstance from ten feet to a thousand miles.

Prof. H. Trantham Will Speak This Evening at Baylor

Prof. H. Trantham of Baylor will give a lecture this evening on England and Oxford. The lecture, which will begin at 8:15, will be given on the campus if the weather is favorable, otherwise in Carroll chapel. Professor Trantham, who is considered a very delightful speaker by those who have heard him, spent three years in Oxford as a Rhodes scholar and is very well qualified to speak concerning this quaint and interesting university. Oxford is one of the oldest of European colleges and has an interesting history, many beautiful buildings and one of the greatest libraries in existence. A number of stereopticon views have been obtained, with which the lecture will be illustrated. These show the various colleges, the beautiful walks, and a few scenes in London which are of unusual interest. Friends from the city are urged to come.

Nash, Robinson & Co. Are Remodeling Their Offices

The supports are being put in place in the front of the Nash, Robinson & Co. building, Tenth and Austin streets, for the demolishing of the present wall and the putting in of the new front, which, it is stated, will make of this one of the prettiest and most modern places of the kind in Central Texas.

The main offices of the company have recently been moved from the front of the building to the rear and the entire front of the structure will be devoted to display of the shelf hardware, wall paper, paint and the like. Everything will be put under glass and the plans call for a very attractive display room. A rest room is provided for in the plans.

SANGER LAWN FETE FOR EMPLOYES VERY PLEASING FUNCTION

ASHER SANGER.

Mr. Sanger was host to the more than three hundred employes in gladsome lawn fete at his home on Washington street. The affair proved a most enjoyable evening and showed a remarkable spirit of good feeling that exists in the Sanger store.

Over three hundred employes of Sanger Brothers were the guests of Asher S. Sanger, manager of the great department store, at his home at 1806 Washington street, last evening. The large lawn of the Sanger home was resplendent with myriads of electric lights and the decorations combined to make it a veritable fairyland. The Boy Scout band under Prof. Chas. Parker, furnished music for the evening along with a program of special numbers, and refreshments were served. Aside from the appeal of the open air program, the cordial spirit existing between employes and employers was declared to be very pleasing to both. The entertainment came as a courtesy to the employes, as a token of the esteem in which they were held and as a compliment to their loyalty.

Among the special features were a vocal solo from Mrs. P. Jack Sanger, accompanied by Miss Amelia Lewine; song and dance offerings from the Hoffmannettes, accompanied by Miss Dana Clark; violin selections by Mrs. Alex Sanger, accompanied by Miss Lewine; vocal solo by Mrs. Joseph Wren and a piano offering by Miss Lewine.

Mr. Sanger presided over the festivities of the evening and was master of ceremonies at a delightful refreshment course. Dancing on the velvety grass was attempted and all the other gay pastimes of a lawn fete were levied on for the evening's pleasure. The event will go down in the history of the Sanger store.

PIMPLY TETTER ON HANDS AND FEET

Would Itch and Burn So Badly Could Not Sleep. Dared Not Put Hands in Water. Ashamed of Them.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I was troubled with tetter. It first began by very small bumps or pimples coming on my hands and feet. Large pimples would form and become awfully sore. I could not sleep at night the pimples would itch and burn so badly. I dared not put my hands in water for they would burn and itch so. I was ashamed to let any one see my hands they were so rough and sore, and I could not wear any clothing on the affected parts.

"I finally saw a Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement and I got a large sized box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Soap and in two months my hands and feet were perfectly healed." (Signed) J. B. Dickerson, Brookhaven, Miss., July 8, 1915.

CAMPBELL TO SPEAK TONIGHT ON LAWN OF COUNTY COURT HOUSE

True to a solemn pledge on the fateful night of the public servants' banquet last fall, Thomas Mitchell Campbell of Palestine, former governor and candidate for the United States senate, is scheduled to ride his white donkey from his hotel to the courthouse lawn this evening, where he will deliver an address on the issues of the campaign. The giving of the donkey to the ex-governor was the climax to an evening of brilliant grilling between prominent public men of Texas at the dinner given by the Young Men's Business league during the Cotton Palace. The address will begin this evening at 8 o'clock and a band will be present to enliven the occasion.

Dr. W. M. Brumby, state health officer during the Campbell administration, will introduce the speaker. Arrangements have been made by the McLennan County Campbell club, of which H. L. Smyer of Mart is the president.

Former Waco Woman Died in Asheville

Ethel Bolton Savely, beloved wife of Harvey E. Savely, of Washington, D. C., died in Asheville, N. C., Friday night, June 23, 1916, at 10:30 o'clock, after a long illness.

Mrs. Savely was born February 22, 1890, in Pineville, La. When she was six years of age her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bolton, moved to Lake Charles, La., where her mother passed away.

Most of Mrs. Savely's life was spent in Waco, where, at an early age, she became a member of the First Baptist church. She was educated in the literary and music departments of the Waco schools and Baylor university. On November 29, 1911, she was married to Harvey E. Savely, of Washington, D. C. Mr. Savely is general field agent in the farm demonstration work for five southern states.

About fourteen months ago Mrs. Savely was brought to San Antonio for her health, and hoping to obtain better results her husband took her to Asheville, N. C., six weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bolton and daughters arrived Friday morning in Asheville to spend the summer with Mrs. Savely, hoping to make happy and contented her last months, never dreaming that the end was so near. Very suddenly Friday night Mrs. Savely passed peacefully away.

Mrs. Savely leaves, besides her husband, parents, four sisters and one brother, a lovely little three-year-old son, Harvey Jr. The remains were placed temporarily in a receiving vault in Asheville until definite plans for removal are decided upon. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Many lovely flowers surrounded the casket.

Sweet memories of this bright young life will abide with friends and loved ones—a fragrance lingering through passing years.

Pleading guilty to stealing a gun from another negro, Lee Thomas was fined $5 and given an hour in jail yesterday by County Judge George N. Denton.

Charles A. Boynton, formerly United States district attorney, will address the Lawyers' Luncheon club Saturday noon at the Raleigh, taking for the subject of his discussion, "Neutrality Laws."

Two weeks from next Saturday comes the primary, and then candidates will know their fate—all except the senatorial aspirants, and most of those will know how the situation

Some excellent results are reported from the classified ads in the Morning News. The News is pushing this department, and intends soon to have it one of the best sections of the kind of any paper in Central Texas.

Two boys were caught early on the morning of July Fourth removing the flags from a well known business establishment in the down-town district. It is to be deplored that such vandalism is permitted in Waco.

Plans for the big picnic at Ocee on July 8 are about complete, and this is to be one of the big picnic affairs of the county. The candidates will be there in full force, and it is thought that there will be a big attendance all around.

It is stated by the city health department that there is still a lack of co-operation in the matter of weed cutting in the city, especially as to vacant lots. Every effort is being made to get the vacant lots clean as far as possible in the city.

Troop trains continue to pass through Waco daily and the Red Cross sees that all the soldier boys are given a change in diet. When the stop is long enough large numbers of the men run down to the Y. M. C. A. for a refreshing shower bath.

Alleging that he was carried past his station by an I. & G. N. train, A. M. Craig yesterday brought suit in the Seventy-fourth district court for $2500 damages.

The docket was called yesterday in the county court and cases assigned for the term.

Members of the T. E. L. class of the Columbus street Baptist church will enjoy their regular monthly session this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Huffman Bains, 516 North Eighteenth street. Assisting in the entertainment will be Mrs. Rush Berry. All members of the class are urged to be present.

Many of the soldier boys coming through Waco are hungry and when they get here they make big orders at eating houses in many cases. Not but what the government is feeding them enough, but they like to have a change and when they get a chance this opportunity is used to good advantage.

The city commission meets this morning in regular session. No matters of special interest are to come up as far as announced, but the meeting probably will be marked by signing the contract for the white way on Austin avenue, marking the closing step in one of the most determined efforts ever staged by the Y. M. B. L. of this city.

Deputy Constable Phil Hobbs arrested a Mexican yesterday charged with burglarizing the home of A. P. Griffis of Hillside, twelve miles south of Waco yesterday morning just before noon. An ear screw, a small amount of silver and some clothing were taken, according to information received by the officers. The value of the articles taken was placed at about $30.

There was a small blaze shortly before 11 o'clock yesterday morning at 1305 Jefferson street. It was just in a pile of trash however, and was soon put out. There have not been many false alarms of fire turned in for some time. Parties have come be know that there is a severe penalty for such alarms, and are not so free about turning them in. stands.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Scandanavian Methodist church will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Swenson, 727 North Ninth street. "Hundramannaforening" (The Hundred Men society) will have a meeting Friday night at the home of Messrs. A. G. and G. E. Friedholm, 2315 Parrott avenue. Members and friends are cordially invited to attend above meetings.

6,000 TROOPS WENT THROUGH YESTERDAY

More than 6000 troops of the national guard, chiefly of Missouri, passed through Waco yesterday, and most of these were handled by the Katy railroad, and the men were served with lemonade and sandwiches here, and some had the delight of lemonade and cake.

Over 2000 khaki-clad soldiers were here at one time yesterday, coming in over the Katy at 1:30 and remaining for more than an hour. There were two trains bearing thirty sleepers, and in addition to these there were a lot of men handling the automobiles and motorcycles which were with the train. The soldiers figured out about 1920 without these extras, the total reaching beyond the 2000 mark.

The Waco Red Cross saw that those passing through yesterday had something to eat and had lemonade, and the men were extremely grateful, praising the hospitality and thoughtfulness of the city and the people. Two trains came in early last evening and remained several hours.

It is reported that the men are getting good treatment at every city in Texas where they stop, and the soldier boys are lavish in their praise of this state.

PERSONAL MENTION.

George L. Pitts of Houston was in Waco yesterday.

V. M. White of Mexia was a Waco visitor yesterday.

T. L. Brady of Hubbard spent yesterday in this city.

C. R. Wagstaff of Dallas was a Waco visitor yesterday.

H. K. Wilson of Jacksonville was in Waco yesterday on business.

Rev. J. B. Tidwell and son leave today for Chattanooga, Tenn., where they will be for awhile.

Mrs. M. Cappelle of Chicago is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Allen of 3100 South Third street.

Mrs. A. S. Katz and two daughters leave at once for New York, where they will visit for awhile.

Dr. J. A. Craven has returned from a trip to Dallas by auto, and reports crops as looking fine along the route.

G. B. Rogers with his mother, and O. M. Weatherby are Waco people who are leaving for Palacios to remain for several weeks.

M. J. Montgomery, a leading citizen of McGregor, spent yesterday afternoon here. Mr. Montgomery reports crops looking fine in his part of the county.

Rev. W. B. Andrews, former pastor of the Austin avenue Methodist church now pastor of the leading Methodist church in Waxahachie, spent yesterday in Waco.

Rev. A. D. Porter, pastor of the First Methodist church of Cleburne was a Waco visitor yesterday. He was formerly pastor of the Morrow street Methodist church here.

M. Kendrick has been operated on in Dallas, and was yesterday reported to be doing well. He has many friends in Waco who will sincerely hope that he may soon begin to improve.

Master Leonard Smith, one of the bright boys of McGregor, son of Frank Smith, a well known and prominent citizen, is spending awhile with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smith, at 2125 Webster street.

Sol Hirschberg will leave today for New York, where he will be engaged for the next several weeks in making purchases for the Goldstein-Migel Co. This is one of his many buying trips. Mr. Hirschberg will be accompanied by his family.

John Caufield, former Waco newspaper man, now sporting editor of the Houston Post, is here for a few days mingling with his friends. Mr. Caufield has made good in Houston in most excellent style, and ranks high there in every way. He is meeting a warm welcome from his many friends here.

HIPPODROME.

"The Dividend."

The public will welcome the announcement that Charles Ray, the Ince "wonder-boy," and the star of the first Triangle drama, "The Coward," will appear in a new picture, "The Dividend," at the Hippodrome today only. This is a powerful story by C. Gardner Sullivan, and the four main characters, Charles Ray, William H. Thompson, Ethel Ullmann and Margaret Thompson make of it a strong, impressive production that faithfully emphasizes the need of a young son for his father's help and sympathy. Charles Ray's first great picture brought him instant fame and success, the Ince production, "The Coward," and his consistently good work has kept him in demand by the appreciative public. William Thompson, the veteran of the stage, first appeared on the screen with Billie Burke as her old Scotch uncle, and since has played in "Civilization's Child" with Anna Lehr. Ethel Ullman is a girl just from high school, who without experience proved her worth of Mr. Ince in a small part and has worked her way to leading lady with Ray. Margaret Thompson has appeared in many Ince plays and is well known on the stage. She is not related to William H. Thompson. To Walter Edwards, the director, is due much of the credit for this strong picture.

Steele, a grinding, heartless despot of the financial world, determines to give the stockholders of his business the biggest dividend in the history of the factory, and in accomplishing this he cuts the wages of his hands, raises the dent of his tenants, and neglects his motherless boy, Frank, whose natural tendeicies are good, but whose character is not strongly grounded on right principles. As a result we have the stories of Betty Price, a factory worker, of Maizie, a woman of the underworld, and of Frank, the boy who goes from bad to worse until he becomes a dope fiend. The climax is one of power, and the lesson is driven home ruthlessly and forcefully.

NICKEL TODAY.

On the other side of a screen sat the man whose life she had come to take. Against him she bore the deepest hate a woman can know. But with all her dishonor, and with the confession of murder still on her lips, there is another who took her into his arms and held her blameless. Would you have done as he did? "Would You Forgive Her?" a Vitagragh Broadway Star feature with Leah Baird, supported by Arthur Cozine, Jack Ellis and Van Dyke Brook is the program picked for particular people at the Nickel today, along with Helen in a one-reel daring stunt.

Tomorrow Alice Hollister in "The Lotus Woman."

A throbbing drama, splendidly played and magnificently staged, "a production of unforgetable strength," so says Picture Show World of "The Lotus Woman." Alice Hollister, known wherever motion pictures are shown as the original vampire, appears in the emotional triumph of her career. The vivid and colorful atmosphere of Latin-America is the setting for this great five-act Kalem story, punch after punch mounting steadily to a crashing finish. Nickel patrons will be exceptionally well pleased with this program tomorrow.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS

Pleading guilty to stealing a gun from another negro, Lee Thomas was fined $5 and given an hour in jail yesterday by County Judge George N. Denton.

Charles A. Boynton, formerly United States district attorney, will address the Lawyers' Luncheon club Saturday noon at the Raleigh, taking for the subject of his discussion, "Neutrality Laws."

Two weeks from next Saturday comes the primary, and then candidates will know their fate—all except the senatorial aspirants, and most of those will know how the situation

Some excellent results are reported from the classified ads in the Morning News. The News is pushing this department, and intends soon to have it one of the best sections of the kind of any paper in Central Texas.

Two boys were caught early on the morning of July Fourth removing the flags from a well known business establishment in the down-town district. It is to be deplored that such vandalism is permitted in Waco.

Plans for the big picnic at Ocee on July 8 are about complete, and this is to be one of the big picnic affairs of the county. The candidates will be there in full force, and it is thought that there will be a big attendance all around.

It is stated by the city health department that there is still a lack of co-operation in the matter of weed cutting in the city, especially as to vacant lots. Every effort is being made to get the vacant lots clean as far as possible in the city.

Troop trains continue to pass through Waco daily and the Red Cross sees that all the soldier boys are given a change in diet. When the stop is long enough large numbers of the men run down to the Y. M. C. A. for a refreshing shower bath.

Alleging that he was carried past his station by an I. & G. N. train, A. M. Craig yesterday brought suit in the Seventy-fourth district court for $2500 damages.

The docket was called yesterday in the county court and cases assigned for the term.

Members of the T. E. L. class of the Columbus street Baptist church will enjoy their regular monthly session this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Huffman Bains, 516 North Eighteenth street. Assisting in the entertainment will be Mrs. Rush Berry. All members of the class are urged to be present.

Many of the soldier boys coming through Waco are hungry and when they get here they make big orders at eating houses in many cases. Not but what the government is feeding them enough, but they like to have a change and when they get a chance this opportunity is used to good advantage.

The city commission meets this morning in regular session. No matters of special interest are to come up as far as announced, but the meeting probably will be marked by signing the contract for the white way on Austin avenue, marking the closing step in one of the most determined efforts ever staged by the Y. M. B. L. of this city.

Deputy Constable Phil Hobbs arrested a Mexican yesterday charged with burglarizing the home of A. P. Griffis of Hillside, twelve miles south of Waco yesterday morning just before noon. An ear screw, a small amount of silver and some clothing were taken, according to information received by the officers. The value of the articles taken was placed at about $30.

There was a small blaze shortly before 11 o'clock yesterday morning at 1305 Jefferson street. It was just in a pile of trash however, and was soon put out. There have not been many false alarms of fire turned in for some time. Parties have come be know that there is a severe penalty for such alarms, and are not so free about turning them in.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Scandanavian Methodist church will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Swenson, 727 North Ninth street. "Hundramannaforening" (The Hundred Men society) will have a meeting Friday night at the home of Messrs. A. G. and G. E. Friedholm, 2315 Parrott avenue. Members and friends are cordially invited to attend above meetings.

GIANTS TAKE GREAT FANCY TO HILL'S PORTSIDE SHOOTS AND WIN.

GRUBB STARS FOR NAVIGATORS

Blond Harvey Drives in Four Skipper Runs—Conly Forced to Retire Under Massed Volleys.

Only one Grubb plays fr the Waco ball club. Maybe if Harvey had imported some of his family connections yesterday, armed with the same name and blessed with the same batting proclivities as he himself unearthed, the score might have been different. The tall third baseman drove in two-thirds of the Navigators' runs, or to be exact, four. And since only six counters were collected altogether, it will be seen that Grubb's young shoulders had to carry a considerable burden. Boss Welchonce's best bet, Conly, didn't go so worse up to the fifth, even if he is a tottering skeleton from too much daily hill duty, until Grubb met the ball for a drive that jarred Snipe to the bench. Then Robertson took up the job, and backed by a comfortable lead, thwarted all local attempts to score, save for Grubb's homer in the ninth.

The Navs weren't exactly lifeless and clear off their feed, yet behind the pitchers the usual peppery chirp held a flat tone. But as past and present owners of every adverse bit of luck in the category, in which Fate has mixed a couple of especially spiteful jabs, its no wonder that they're not the most buoyant crew that ever rode the seas. These coy tail-enders, shamming under a mask of helplessness, always have proved hard nuts for the Sailors. And yesterday was no exception. The Giants began right away to show their utter disregard for caste and position. They greeted Lefty Hill almost fraternally and kept showing their affection for his slants until Hardy said, "Hold, enough," and brought Donalds out. Eddie held them fairly well in hand.

JOSEFSON WASTES NO TIME.

Josefson started the fray with a Texas leaguer to left on the first ball pitched. Ens singled through second and Josefson raced to third when Coyle fumbled momentarily. McCandless forced Ens at second, but Smith came to time with a single to left, scoring Josefson. Brownlow and Snedecor were both given bases on balls, forcing in McCandless. With the bags full and only one down, it looked like a ripe harvest for the Giants. But Crouch hit into a fast double play.

Hill appeared to steady in the second round, and struck out three men, with his own error and a base on balls inserted. In the third Dallas added another. Smith walked, was sacrificed to second, and counted on Snedecor's bingle to right.

The big break out came in the sixth Brownlow waited 'em out for a free trip. Snedecor singled to center and both moved up when Crouch steered one over second base. Stupp fanned, the last strike being a drop two feet deep. With the infield in close, Conly dribbled a grounder to Wohlleben, who threw wide to the plate and Brownlow scored. Josefsen received a fast one on the arm and Snedecor came over. Ens lined a screamer over Grubb's head, scoring Crouch and Conly. Donalds then went to the mound, and disposed of McCandless and Smith without further trouble.

In the eighth, Robertson led off with a blow to center. Josefson forced him at second, and trotted to that bag himself when Kuhn overthrew Donalds in returning the ball. Jewel Ens responded with a mighty wallop into Webster street, counting Josefson ahead of him. That was all the scoring for the Giants, but ain't that enough?

SKIPPERS TIE SCORE IN SECOND.

The Skippers tied the score in the second. James was safe on Snedecor's error, went to second when Stupp mussed up Kuhn's grounder, and scored on the Kaiser's high-bounding single through second. Wohlleben spiked the plate on Hill's timely swat to right.

The sixth was fruitful for Waco as well. With two out, Tanner was hit by a pitched ball. Conley threw wild to catch him off, and Buddy went on to second. A passed ball placed him at the hot corner. Kuhn was passed and Wohlleben was brushed by a hot twister. After Grubb had fouled off eleven balls and placed the management in an embarrassing position he planted one against the left-center fence, cleaning the bags. Robertson stepped in at this juncture and fanned Donalds. James started the eighth with a single, but Tanner flied out and Wohlleben hit into a double.

Grubb smote one on the nose for a circuit clout in the final inning but no one followed suit, and the stands yawned many a weary sigh as they clambered down, heigho!

Those who batted 1.000 in the Texas, American and National leagues.

Player—	At bat	Hits	Total Bases

Noyes, Galveston	1	1	2
Herzog, Cincinnati	1	1	1

Giants today and tomorrow, then to Shreveport for three games and home again for a lengthy siesta.

Wagner and Hinchman stole the only two bases in the Pittsburg-Chicago game. And the wise boys say their knee joints need oil.

Al Walters grabbed three hits yesterday while they were plentiful. No thefts were pulled on him, either, although thirteen Senators reached first.

Jack Johnston had trouble in keeping his batting average up to snuff when he was lead-off man. But since he's hitting in the Oilers' clean-up position the bingles just crawl out out of his bat and float away.

This Wright bobbed his head out long enough for the fans to see that he's a likeable-looking chap, with a well-built pair of shoulders and a general air of ability. But we'll get a better chance to see what he's got when he works in the box today.

This Robertson is a husky bird with a nice supply of nerve. When Grubb hit his home-run in the ninth, the red-sleeved kid just shifted his quid and set the next three down. Many pitchers would have aviated, as the moral effect of a long one like that takes all the zip away.

Conly will always swear that Kuhn was responsible for Grubb's clean-up double. Crafty Red, stationed on second, called the turn on Smith's signals every shot and just before the pitcher threw that fatal ball Red flashed the "straight across' with his right arm and was off.

Wilson Matthews lifted his gnarled right fist three times in the third with Smith at bat, and bawled "Strike." Yet, when Smith made no attempt to hie himself to the dog-house, Mathews allowed him to stand there and eventually go to first on four balls.

GRUBB STARS FOR NAVIGATORS

Blond Harvey Drives in Four Skipper Runs—Conly Forced to Retire Under Massed Volleys.

Only one Grubb plays fr the Waco ball club. Maybe if Harvey had imported some of his family connections yesterday, armed with the same name and blessed with the same batting proclivities as he himself unearthed, the score might have been different. The tall third baseman drove in two-thirds of the Navigators' runs, or to be exact, four. And since only six counters were collected altogether, it will be seen that Grubb's young shoulders had to carry a considerable burden. Boss Welchonce's best bet, Conly, didn't go so worse up to the fifth, even if he is a tottering skeleton from too much daily hill duty, until Grubb met the ball for a drive that jarred Snipe to the bench. Then Robertson took up the job, and backed by a comfortable lead, thwarted all local attempts to score, save for Grubb's homer in the ninth.

The Navs weren't exactly lifeless and clear off their feed, yet behind the pitchers the usual peppery chirp held a flat tone. But as past and present owners of every adverse bit of luck in the category, in which Fate has mixed a couple of especially spiteful jabs, its no wonder that they're not the most buoyant crew that ever rode the seas. These coy tail-enders, shamming under a mask of helplessness, always have proved hard nuts for the Sailors. And yesterday was no exception. The Giants began right away to show their utter disregard for caste and position. They greeted Lefty Hill almost fraternally and kept showing their affection for his slants until Hardy said, "Hold, enough," and brought Donalds out. Eddie held them fairly well in hand.

JOSEFSON WASTES NO TIME.

Josefson started the fray with a Texas leaguer to left on the first ball pitched. Ens singled through second and Josefson raced to third when Coyle fumbled momentarily. McCandless forced Ens at second, but Smith came to time with a single to left, scoring Josefson. Brownlow and Snedecor were both given bases on balls, forcing in McCandless. With the bags full and only one down, it looked like a ripe harvest for the Giants. But Crouch hit into a fast double play.

Hill appeared to steady in the second round, and struck out three men, with his own error and a base on balls inserted. In the third Dallas added another. Smith walked, was sacrificed to second, and counted on Snedecor's bingle to right.

The big break out came in the sixth Brownlow waited 'em out for a free trip. Snedecor singled to center and both moved up when Crouch steered one over second base. Stupp fanned, the last strike being a drop two feet deep. With the infield in close, Conly dribbled a grounder to Wohlleben, who threw wide to the plate and Brownlow scored. Josefsen received a fast one on the arm and Snedecor came over. Ens lined a screamer over Grubb's head, scoring Crouch and Conly. Donalds then went to the mound, and disposed of McCandless and Smith without further trouble.

In the eighth, Robertson led off with a blow to center, Josefson forced him at second, and trotted to that bag himself when Kuhn overthrew Donalds in returning the ball. Jewel Ens responded with a mighty wallop into Webster street, counting Josefson ahead of him. That was all the scoring for the Giants, but ain't that enough?

SKIPPERS TIE SCORE IN SECOND.

The Skippers tied the score in the second. James was safe on Snedecor's error, went to second when Stupp mussed up Kuhn's grounder, and scored on the Kaiser's high-bounding single through second. Wohlleben spiked the plate on Hill's timely swat to right.

The sixth was fruitful for Waco as well. With two out, Tanner was hit by a pitched ball. Conley threw wild to catch him off, and Buddy went on to second. A passed ball placed him at the hot corner. Kuhn was passed and Wohlleben was brushed by a hot twister. After Grubb had fouled off eleven balls and placed the management in an embarrassing position he planted one against the left-center fence, cleaning the bags. Robertson stepped in at this juncture and fanned Donalds. James started the eighth with a single, but Tanner flied out and Wohlleben hit into a double.

Grubb smote one on the nose for a circuit clout in the final inning but no one followed suit, and the stands yawned many a weary sigh as they clambered down, heigho!

THE PERFECT HITTERS YESTERDAY

Those who batted 1.000 in the Texas, American and National leagues.

Player—	At bat	Hits	Total Bases
Robertson, Dallas	1	1	1
Noyes, Galveston	1	1	2
Herzog, Cincinnati	1	1	1

Giants today and tomorrow, then to Shreveport for three games and home again for a lengthy siesta.

Wagner and Hinchman stole the only two bases in the Pittsburg-Chicago game. And the wise boys say their knee joints need oil.

Al Walters grabbed three hits yesterday while they were plentiful. No thefts were pulled on him, either, although thirteen Senators reached first.

Jack Johnston had trouble in keeping his batting average up to snuff when he was lead-off man. But since he's hitting in the Oilers' clean-up position the bingles just crawl out out of his bat and float away.

This Wright bobbed his head out long enough for the fans to see that he's a likeable-looking chap, with a well-built pair of shoulders and a general air of ability. But we'll get a better chance to see what he's got when he works in the box today.

This Robertson is a husky bird with a nice supply of nerve. When Grubb hit his home-run in the ninth, the red-sleeved kid just shifted his quid and set the next three down. Many pitchers would have aviated, as the moral effect of a long one like that takes all the zip away.

Conly will always swear that Kuhn was responsible for Grubb's clean-up double. Crafty Red, stationed on second, called the turn on Smith's signals every shot and just before the pitcher threw that fatal ball Red flashed the "straight across" with his right arm and was off.

Wilson Matthews lifted his gnarled right fist three times in the third with Smith at bat, and bawled "Strike." Yet, when Smith made no attempt to hie himself to the dog-house, Mathews allowed him to stand there and eventually go to first on four balls.

MARKET REPORT

COTTON

New York.

New York, July 5.—Apprehension that a disturbance reported in the gulf and approaching the coast would cause heavy rains in the eastern belt seemed to be largely responsible for a very sharp advance in the cotton market here today. October contracts sold up to 13.16, or 31 points above the low level of last Saturday and closed at 13.05, with the general list closing barely steady at a net advance of 8 to 10 points for the day.

Liverpool was relatively easier over the American hostility and the market here opened at a decline of 6 points to an advance of 1 point. Houses with Liverpool connections were good buyers of October and the market soon turned firmer on apprehensions as to weather conditions in the eastern belt. It seemed from the action of prices that the break which followed the publication of the government's crop report last Saturday had left a considerable short interest outstanding and there was probably fresh buying for long account as well as covering.

Bullish southern spot advices and a moderate demand from trade sources also were factors on the advance, which carried Juy contracts up to 12.98, while December sold at 13.34 and January at 13.38 during the middle of the afternoon or about 19 to 21 points net higher. At this level there were reactions of 10 to 12 points in the late trading under realizing. New Orleans and local selling which probably was encouraged by an easier turn in July deliveries.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, July 5.—The hurricane in the gulf of Mexico was about the only thing considered by the cotton trade in this market today. Fear that it would cause crop damage when it worked inland resulted in buying which sent values up slightly more than $1 a bale.

Late in the day the market had less strength and a reaction came when buyers of the early hours started realizing profits. The close was barely steady at a net gain of 9 to 10 points.

In the early trading, prices rose 9 to 11 points and the market had a very steady tone as a result of the storm warning sent out by the weather bureau. In the early afternoon the market was at its highest, a net rise of 21 to 22 points.

WHEAT

Chicago, July 5.—Bullish cable advices lifted the wheat market today, but the effect was nearly wiped out later owing chiefly to the smallness of decrease in the United States visible supply. Quotations closed nervous ⅛ to ¼@⅜c net higher, with July $1.04¼ and September $1.05⅝. Corn finished ¼@⅜c to ⅝c up, oats off a sixteenth to ⅜c and provisions unchanged to 15 cents higher.

Wheat prices were highest at the start and were nearly the lowest at the close. Initial strength came largely from Liverpool on reports which said demand was broadening and that European crop advices were becoming les sand less favorable.

Corn displayed considerable firmness in spite of ideal weather for the growing crop. Scarcity of offerings was a feature.

Oats were relatively weak during the day.

Provisions rose to the highest prices yet this season.

Futures ranged as follows today:

Wheat—	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
July	1.04	1.04⅜	1.03	1.03⅝

COTTON

New York.

New York, July 5.—Apprehension that a disturbance reported in the gulf and approaching the coast would cause heavy rains in the eastern belt seemed to be largely responsible for a very sharp advance in the cotton market here today. October contracts sold up to 13.16, or 31 points above the low level of last Saturday and closed at 13.05, with the general list closing barely steady at a net advance of 8 to 10 points for the day.

Liverpool was relatively easier over the American hostility and the market here opened at a decline of 6 points to an advance of 1 point. Houses with Liverpool connections were good buyers of October and the market soon turned firmer on apprehensions as to weather conditions in the eastern belt. It seemed from the action of prices that the break which followed the publication of the government's crop report last Saturday had left a considerable short interest outstanding and there was probably fresh buying for long account as well as covering.

Bullish southern spot advices and a moderate demand from trade sources also were factors on the advance, which carried Juy contracts up to 12.98, while December sold at 13.34 and January at 13.38 during the middle of the afternoon or about 19 to 21 points net higher. At this level there were reactions of 10 to 12 points in the late trading under realizing, New Orleans and local selling which probably was encouraged by an easier turn in July deliveries.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, July 5.—The hurricane in the gulf of Mexico was about the only thing considered by the cotton trade in this market today. Fear that it would cause crop damage when it worked inland resulted in buying which sent values up slightly more than $1 a bale.

Late in the day the market had less strength and a reaction came when buyers of the early hours started realizing profits. The close was barely steady at a net gain of 9 to 10 points.

In the early trading, prices rose 9 to 11 points and the market had a very steady tone as a result of the storm warning sent out by the weather bureau. In the early afternoon the market was at its highest, a net rise of 21 to 22 points.

WHEAT

Chicago, July 5.—Bullish cable advices lifted the wheat market today, but the effect was nearly wiped out later owing chiefly to the smallness of decrease in the United States visible supply. Quotations closed nervous ⅛ to ⅛@¼c net higher, with July $1.04⅜ and September $1.05⅝. Corn finished ⅛@⅜c to ⅜c up, oats off a sixteenth to ⅛c and provisions unchanged to 15 cents higher.

Wheat prices were highest at the start and were nearly the lowest at the close. Initial strength came largely from Liverpool on reports which said demand was broadening and that European crop advices were becoming les sand less favorable.

Corn displayed considerable firmness in spite of ideal weather for the growing crop. Scarcity of offerings was a feature.

Oats were relatively weak during the day.

Provisions rose to the highest prices yet this season.

Futures ranged as follows today:

CHAMBER COMMERCE WOULD HAVE TEXANS SUPPLY ARMY NEEDS

Believing that Texas manufacturers and jobbers should have a large share of the army patronage for the great quantities of supplies which will be purchased by the quartermaster's department, the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce urges that Texas supply men make the most of the opportunity. The committee feels that Texas jobbers are entitled to a large share of the army business.

The committee explains that any one in Waco interested in government army contracts should get in communication with the quartermaster general's department at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, or Fort Bliss, El Paso, and also write or wire the quartermaster general's department, care of war department, Washington, D. C. The firm should request that their name be added to the list to receive specifications for supplies.

Some think that the mobilization of the forces on the border and the tremendous consumption of supplies will mean a large amount of certain kinds of business for Waco.

Fire Department Has Purchased Oats for Year

Talking yesterday with Chief Ed Bauerle of the Waco Fire Department it was stated by Chief Bauerle that he and Commissioner Ben Richards have bought the oats necessary for the horses of the department, and in this purchase a lot of money was saved, as good oats were bought for 36 cents per bushel, whereas the price now is from 4 to 5 cents a bushl highr than when the purchase was made for the fire department.

The buying of hay is now in progress and good Johnson grass hay was contracted for at $9 per ton, which is considered a low price. The plan of buying the supplies needed for the fire department while prices are low has been followed successfully by the department officials and a saving has resulted to the city.

Mexican Rumors Cause Hysteria

"Rumors get started mighty easy sometimes, and frequently do a great deal of harm before they are stopped," said a Waco gentleman yesterday.

"My daughter was visiting in Lockhart last week, and one night at the picture show a girl came in almost in hysterics and announced that she had just been told that a Mexican had been caught in the act of emptying a bucket of poison in the standpipe from which the city gets its water for use of citizens. This created a big flurry, and flew over town in a jiffy; it, of course inflamed the people against the Mexicans, and yet there was not a word of truth in it—somebody just told it for a joke, and it soon took on the form of fact.

"People ought to be careful of what they say all the time, and especially in a time like this. And they should carefully look into statements or rumors that they may hear and run them down before acting or forming a conclusion."

TOURIST FINDS BROWNWOOD COUNTRY VERY ATTRACTIVE

Live Stock Becoming Factor Around Santa Anna and Oil is Being Sought.

A correspondent of the News has just returned from a short trip out west on the Santa Fe branch from Temple and reports crops looking good but corn needs rain. A good rain would benefit cotton as well as corn.

The people out west are a progressive and active population, and are optimistic as to business conditions. In the section between Goldthwaite and Coleman there seems to be quite a diversified production from the soil and much fruit is raised. Many small patches of dewberries have been very productive and profitable, and peaches and plums abound.

Brownwood has grown to be quite an important commercial point and is a very pretty little city. It was quite a surprise to note such a substantial little city. Santa Anna on the west is also a stirring little city of 1500 and it is said that there were over twenty thousand bales of wagon cotton shipped out of there is one season recently. Besides cotton, other products produce revenue to make this little city quite a commercial giant. The livestock interest is quite a factor and Santa Anna is becoming quite a rendezvous for oil prospectors, the country nearby having been developed for a distance of eight miles by producing wells of from five to thirty barrels daily output.

Some person unknown created quite a scare at Santa Anna and Coleman a few nights ago. Word was sent out by wire from the little town of Bangs that four Mexicans were on the train bound for the west as an advance guard for eighty more to follow on horseback, heavily armed, and that the purpose was to shoot up the towns along the route. Instanter the town of Santa Anna was aroused, every hardware store in the town was denuded of firearms and ammunition and 150 of the male population, all heavily armed, were prepared for an emergency. Upon the arrival of the westbound train a committee proceeded through the train and found four Mexicans, but all that was found on the persons of the four was a bottle of whiskey. The Mexicans were nearly frightened out of their wits and had any one of them a gun in their possession there is no doubt but what they all would have been summarily dealt with. It is needless to say that the eighty reported as on horseback en route was only a myth.

This suggests how careful people should be in taking reports as they come, unless known to be from reliable sources. In case of actual hostilities between the two countries, many law-abiding and peacefully inclined Mexicans would undoubtedly suffer unless the authorities were alive to their duties and summarily dealt with the hoodlum element of our own people who might see in the disturbed conditions an excuse for doing innocent people harm. It is said that most of the Mexican population in the west are peaceable and are not inclined to intrude obnoxious views or belligerent attitude toward their American neighbors.

The country out west is very healthy and the people seem contented and happy. After the cares of business and the labor of household duties, many of the population patronize the picture shows, of which the towns are well supplied. There are two picture indoor shows and one airdome at Brownwood. Politics don't seem to disturb the people, although they are visited by many who are running for office. Most, if not all of the country along this part of the Santa Fe system is prohibition, which makes it rather dangerous in case one is snake-bitten.

KINDLIER FEELING NOW TOWARD BRAZOS IMPROVEMENT PLAN

Since the visit to Texas of the congressional flood control committee, with Chairman Humphries at its head, there has been renewed interest in Waco in the Brazos river, and many persons who have heretofore taken little interest in the river, and who seemed rather inclined to skepticism as to its ultimate improvement for light draught navigation, have come to see matters in a new light.

Chairman W. W. Seley of the Brazos River and Valley Improvement association, who had much to do with the handling of arrangements in connection with the visit to Texas of this distinguished committee, feels that a long step was taken towards better conditions on the river by the visit of this committee, and while it will take concerted effort and continuous effort, still he thinks that the results are certain in the end if the people do their part here and at other points down the stream.

Within a short time now two additional locks and dams will be under way, and the people will soon wake up and find that half the locks and dams necessary to secure light draught navigation to the Gulf of Mexico are in sight; then it may be that they will get busy and ask the government to take up the matter in cold earnest and put all the rest of the locks and dams under construction at once.

The flood control idea will be worked out along with the building of the locks and dams, too, and ultimately the valley of the Brazos will become an empire within itself.

Postmaster McCollum Is Working on His Year's Reports

Postmaster C. B. McCollum is very busy just now, working on his quarterly and annual reports, as the fiscal year ended with June, and the quarter likewise ended with June.

The reports of railway mail clerks have not yet come in, and payments of salaries have not been made to all of them, but as soon as these payments shall have been made, then the report will be made up by Postmaster McCollum.

It is thought that the reports will show up well, and that it will be demonstrated that conditions are improving in the Waco postoffice, this being an index to many other lines of business.

Would Prevent Effect of Ordinance Closing Liquor Houses

Seeking to enjoin the city of Waco from putting into operation an ordinance recently passed, prohibiting wholesale liquor houses from staying open later than 9:30 p. m., B. F. Goodman yesterday brought an action in the Seventy-fourth district court. Judge Erwin J. Clark set the hearing for Friday.

The ordinance in question was passed by a unanimous vote of the city commission on June 22 under a suspension of the rules. It was introduced by Commissioner J. D. Harlow and specified that all wholesale liquor houses of the city should close their doors at 9:30 p. m. and remain closed until 6 a. m.

WHY TOM CONNALLY?

SOME MORE FACTS.

Words, like clothes, are subject to dictates of fashion. Into the vacobulary of business a word has, during the past few years, come into a wide usage. That word is "service."

In all lines of activity the demand of the hour is for service. Any man who can shake hands and smile may be able to get an office, and any man can draw his pay and hold that office. Any man may be what is called the "incumbent" of an office.

The demand of today, however, is congress who are mere "incumbents." congress who are mere "insumbents." We want men of proved ability to go to congress to manage the biggest business on earth, the business of the government of these United States.

This is why we iterate and reiterate the slogan, "A vote for Tom Connally is a Vote for Efficiency."

Porcine propensities have never pertained to pure democracy. The soul of the democracy of Jefferson is fair dealing.

For twenty years McLennan county has had the congressman. Before that, Bell county had the congressman.

It is, by all rules of fair dealing, Falls county's time to go to bat. It is, however, on the sheer grounds of proved legislative efficiency that the candidacy of Tom Connally is founded.

Make up your mind to vote for the most capable man. Then investigate the claims of each. We, his friends, have no fear that you will vote for any other than Tom Connally—the man who is equipped by nature and by training for legislative service. This is a political advertisement.

Postmaster C. B. McCollum is very busy just now, working on his quarterly and annual reports, as the fiscal year ended with June, and the quarter likewise ended with June.

The reports of railway mail clerks have not yet come in, and payments of salaries have not been made to all of them, but as soon as these payments shall have been made, then the report will be made up by Postmaster McCollum.

It is thought that the reports will show up well, and that it will be demonstrated that conditions are improving in the Waco postoffice, this being an index to many other lines of business.

Would Prevent Effect of Ordinance Closing Liquor Houses

Seeking to enjoin the city of Waco from putting into operation an ordinance recently passed, prohibiting wholesale liquor houses from staying open later than 9:30 p. m., B. F. Goodman yesterday brought an action in the Seventy-fourth district court. Judge Erwin J. Clark set the hearing for Friday.

The ordinance in question was passed by a unanimous vote of the city commission on June 22 under a suspension of the rules. It was introduced by Commissioner J. D. Harlow and specified that all wholesale liquor houses of the city should close their doors at 9:30 p. m. and remain closed until 6 a. m.

B. Y. P. U. Delegation Will Leave Waco on Monday Night

Under the chaperonage of Mrs. Crate Dalton, a delegation of Waco B. Y. P. U. will leave Waco next Monday night for Palacios, where the state encampment of this organization of the Baptist church will be held.

The Waco delegation will go down on the train with the Dallas delegation in a special coach, and expect a most pleasant time at this gathering. There will be a fine program with lectures from some of the most prominent men in the country, and the entire gathering will be one fraught with special interest.

Plans for entertainment of those who attend the gathering are on a scale which insures that all those who attend will have an agreeable time.

Dr. Reddin Andrews Will Give Series of Lectures Here

A series of open air meetings at Fifth and Austin this week will be addressed by Dr. Reddin Andrews, a scholarly and profound student of economics. A display advertisement in this issue calls attention to the meetings. A United States flag appears at the top of the advertisement. Hunt it up and read it.

Neff Finds Sentiment Strong for Brooks in Panhandle

Hon. Pat Neff is just back from the Panhandle, where he spoke in behalf of Dr. Brooks. He was received with great cordiality by the people in West Texas. He is of the opinion that West Texas is strongly for Dr. Brooks, Public sentiment is rapidly turning to Waco's great educator, he said.

Dr. Brooks Will Speak in Waco July 15 on Court House Lawn

Dr. Samuel Palmer Brooks, one of Waco's offerings to the senatorial race, will deliver his only campaign address in this city on the evening of July 15, according to announcement yesterday. Details of the speaking will be arranged by the members of the Brooks club. It has not yet been determined who will introduce the speaker. The address will be made on the court house lawn, the weather permitting.

With Dr. Brooks' long residence in Waco as president of Baylor university and his host of personal friends here, it is anticipated that he will have a large hearing on July 15.

R. L. Henry, the other Waco candidate for senatorial honors, will speak here on July 21, as has been previously announced.

WHY TOM CONNALLY?

SOME MORE FACTS.

Words, like clothes, are subject to dictates of fashion. Into the vacobulary of business a word has, during the past few years, come into a wide usage. That word is "service."

In all lines of activity the demand of the hour is for service. Any man who can shake hands and smile may be able to get an office, and any man can draw his pay and hold that office. Any man may be what is called the "incumbent" of an office.

The demand of today, however, is congress who are mere "incumbents." congress who are mere "insumbents." We want men of proved ability to go to congress to manage the biggest business on earth, the business of the government of these United States.

This is why we iterate and reiterate the slogan, "A vote for Tom Connally is a Vote for Efficiency."

Porcine propensities have never pertained to pure democracy. The soul of the democracy of Jefferson is fair dealing.

For twenty years McLennan county has had the congressman. Before that, Bell county had the congressman.

It is, by all rules of fair dealing, Falls county's time to go to bat. It is, however, on the sheer grounds of proved legislative efficiency that the candidacy of Tom Connally is founded.

Make up your mind to vote for the most capable man. Then investigate the claims of each. We, his friends, have no fear that you will vote for any other than Tom Connally—the man who is equipped by nature and by training for legislative service. This is a political advertisement.

National Meeting of Elks at Baltimore Next Week

The national meeting of the Elks will be held in Baltimore beginning next week, and that Maryland city has made big preparations for a great crowd.

It is not thought that Texas will be represented as is usually the case, that is not as largely represented as usual, though of course it will be represented. The interest has not been aroused as generally as usual.

Waco will be represented by W. R. Davidson and possibly by others; Mr. Davidson goes as a delegate of the Waco lodge of Elks, being a past exalted ruler.

Morris Will Speak Here and in Lake View on July 14

Charles Morris himself will speak at Lakeview at the picnic Friday, July 14, in the afternoon and on the night of the same day on the court house lawn, in Waco, Friday, July 14.
